PLAGIARISM

The commonest forms of impropriety are comprehended by the term "plagiarism." Professor Harold C. Martin of Harvard University defines these forms so clearly in his The Logic and Rhetoric of Exposition that we have secured his permission to reprint his definition here.

A DEFINITION OF PLAGIARISM*

BY HAROLD C. MARTIN

The academic counterpart of the bank embezzler and of the manufacturer who mislabels his product is the plagiarist, the student or scholar who leads his reader to believe that what he is reading is the original work of the writer when it is not. If it could be assumed that the distinction between plagiarism and honest use of sources is perfectly clear in everyone's mind, there would be no need for the explanation which follows; merely the warning with which this definition concludes would be enough. But it is apparent that sometimes men of good will draw the suspicion of guilt upon themselves (and, indeed, are guilty) simply because they are not aware of the illegitimacy of certain kinds of "borrowing" and of the procedures for correct identification of materials other than those gained through independent research and reflection.

The spectrum is a wide one. At one end there is word-for-word copying of another's writing without enclosing the copied passage in quotation marks and identifying it in a footnote, both of which are necessary. (This includes, of course, the copying of all or any part of another student's paper.) It hardly seems possible that anyone of college age or more could do that without clear intent to deceive. At the other end there is the almost casual slipping in of a particularly apt term which one has come across in reading and which so admirably expresses one's opinion that one is tempted to make it personal property. Between these poles there are degrees and degrees, but they may be roughly placed in two groups. Close to outright and blatant deceit—but more the result, perhaps, of laziness than of bad intent—is the patching together of random jottings made in the course of reading, generally without careful identification of their source, and then woven into the text, so that the result is a mosaic of other people's ideas and words, the writer's sole contribution being the cement to hold the pieces together. Indicative of more effort and, for that reason, somewhat closer to honesty, though still dishonest, is the paraphrase, an abbreviated (and often skillfully prepared) restatement of someone else's analysis or conclusion without acknowledgment that another person's text has been the basis for the recapitulation.

continued this year to excel, both individually and on a group basis, in every field open to them. As in past years, the Juniors edited the Marque, consistently placed many members on the honor rolls, provided varsity athletic teams with many of their finest players, and served as officers and members in most of the school's clubs and activities; but perhaps their most important contributions came in areas beyond these traditional fields. Individually, the Juniors more than proved their talent, initiative and excellence, in unusual activities ranging from skeet shooting to filmmaking. As a group, they demonstrated an initiative and leadership in activities such as the Campaign and clean-up days. The Junior Dance, held in November, was an innovative, ambitious, and successful undertaking, one which clearly demonstrated the Juniors' originality, enthusiasm, and unity.

of their freshman enthusiasm had gone, showed few signs of settling into a slump and continued to take an active part in all areas of school life. Their class was well represented on the honor rolls and on both varsity and B athletic teams; they made great contributions to all the school's important clubs and organizations. As a class, the Sophomores supported a child in Colombia, helped with the Can-paign and Clean-up days, and sponsored a highly successful dance in late January. Under the guidance of advisor John Byrne, the Sophs showed an initiative, ability, and leadership in everything which would help involve them in the St. Mark's community.

, despite a traditionally less-than-cordial welcome to the Upper School on the part of their elders, demonstrated great initiative and eagerness for any activity which would establish them as full-fledged members of the Upper School. The more athletically inclined Frosh joined teams in all major sports; the class consistently placed many names on both honor rolls; Freshmen held membership in many school clubs and organizations. Freshman day, though more a spontaneous "happening" than a planned activity, held more excitement for wild-eyed members of the classes of '70 and '73 than any such activity in recent years. In all their activities, the Frosh demonstrated a spirit, an enthusiasm, found in no other class at St. Mark's—a spirit when showed, perhaps, that to be a freshman is hardly as ignominious a position as is often believed.

The 1969-1970 Student Bookstore, managed by Eddie Kyle, Steve Young, Gerry van der Horst, and Steve Sanders, experienced a year of relatively few problems. This was a result of many hours of planning and organizing during the summer by the managers and new advisor Mr. Alain Beauvois.

With a small staff of twenty-five persons, including 14 junior and senior workers and six apprentice managers from the junior class, the bookstore offered students required reading books, school supplies, gym bags, wind breakers, and school supplies. A system of receipts and daily financial reports was effected. This was done for more accurate accounting, leading to increased profits to support such things as the AFS program, homecoming, and victory parties.

mid-day mid-week

The lunchroom this year occasionally appeared as empty as Spiro's skull, as it were. Students had, for the first time, an alternative for lunch, as it were—Mid-Day Mid-Week. From the start there was little doubt as to which made the most appealing offer.

Mid-Day Mid-Week premiered last fall, and rapidly became a much anticipated event. Under the impresarioship, as it were, of senior Bill Black, the Mid-Day Mid-Week programs not only kept students from being self-indulgent in the lunchroom, but occasionally wrenched them from part of sixth period classes.

Occurring at irregular intervals, but always at 12:00 on Wednesdays, except once at 12:30, and once on Tuesday, and once on Monday, Mid-Day Mid-Week, as it were, had standing room only for many of the popular attractions—Jake Freiburger and his magic fingers (and his guitar), Samuel Avital, mime-artist, an Anti-War Reader's Theatre, Albee's Zoo Story with alumni Mark Capri and John Alberts, the Dallas String Quartet, a Blues Trio composed of Alan MacAdams, Stoney Savage, and John Reilly, and even the inimitable and incomparable James Livengood, organist extraordinaire.

Bound to remain a highlight of the school week, Mid-Day Mid-Week has made an impressive first impression. As it were.

kinkaid bus trip

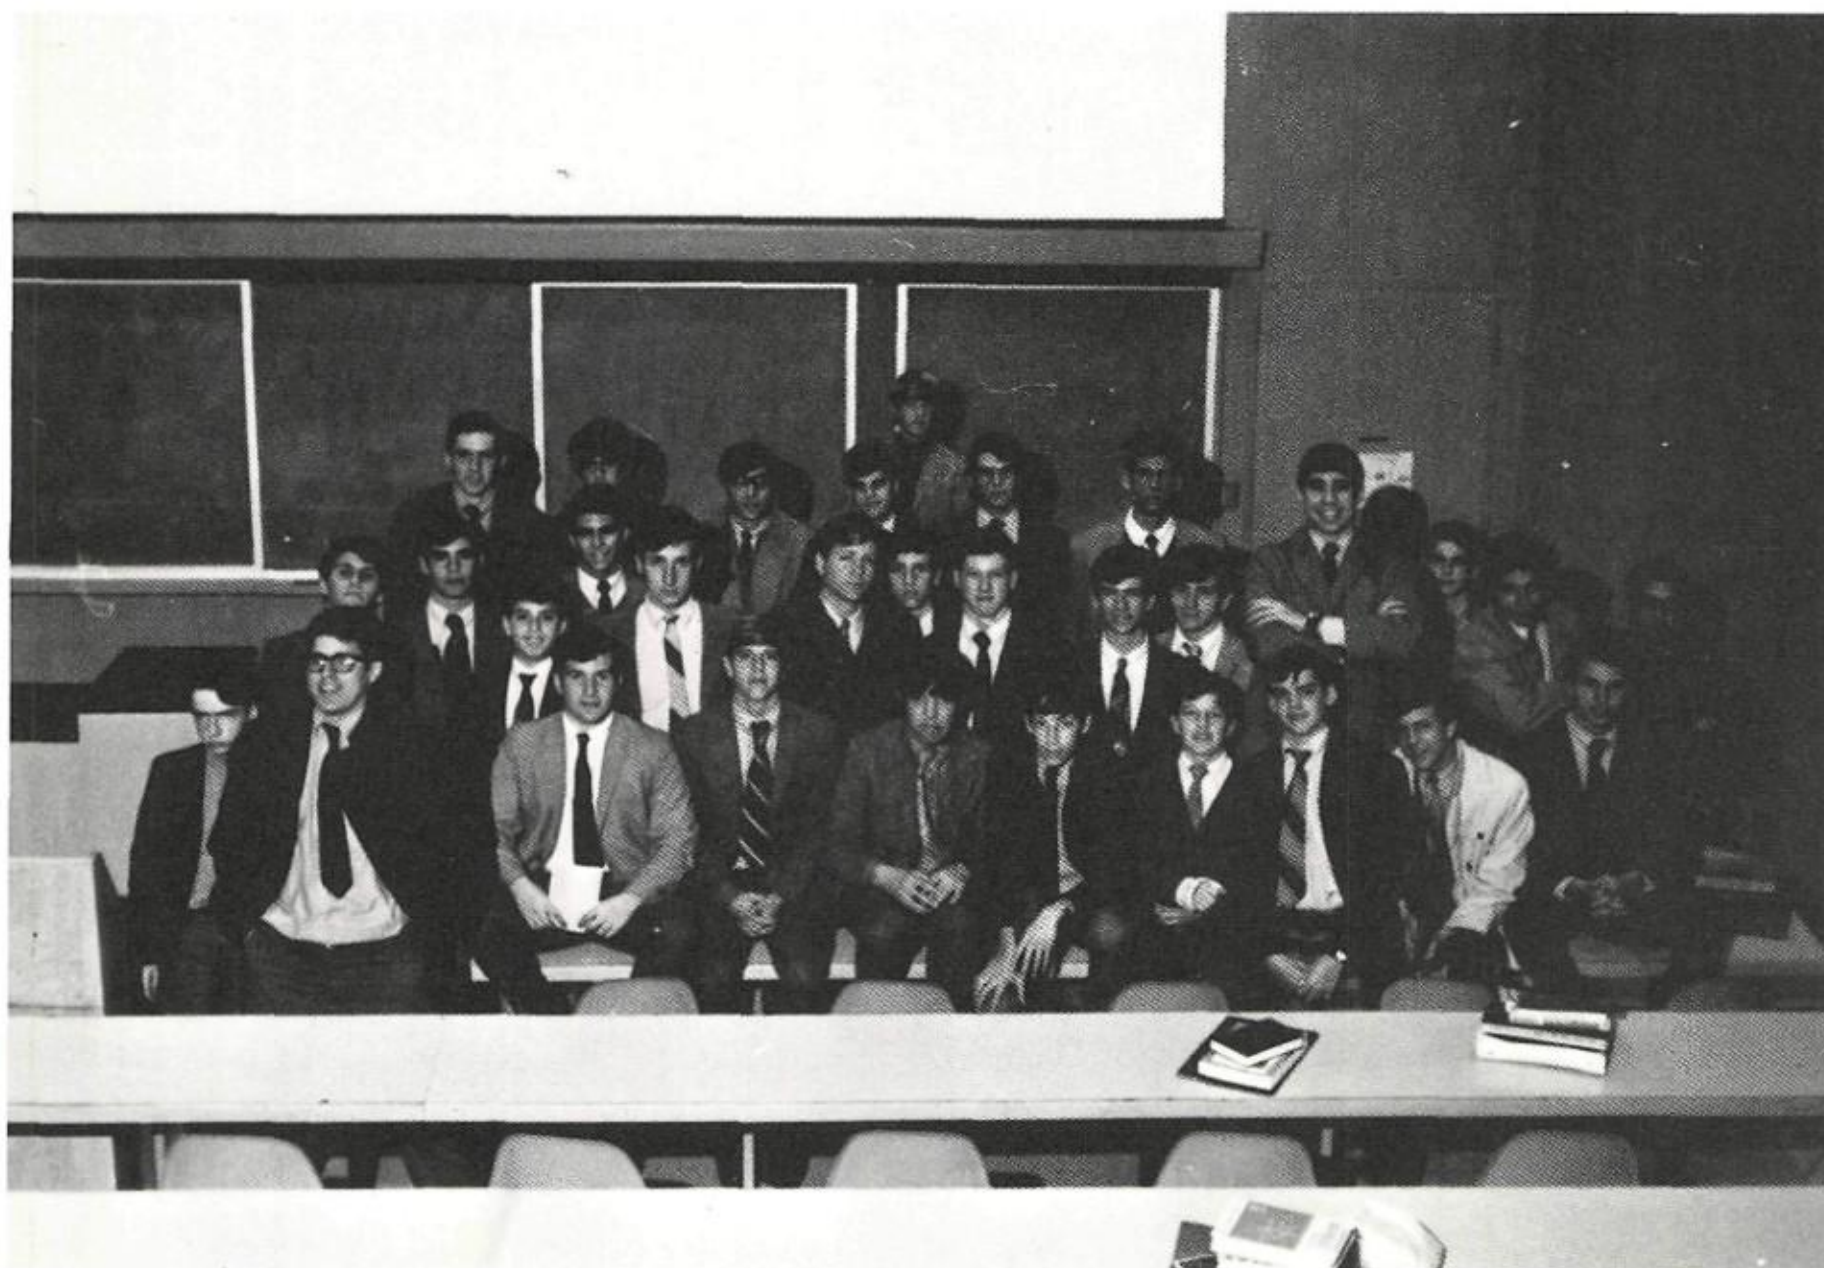

A highlight of the school year and of the Roar's activities was the bus trip to Houston Kinkaid. The Roar was able to fill two double-deck Greyhound buses; one for seniors and dates, and another rambling wreck full of freshmen. The entourage arrived in Houston two hours before game time, giving the passengers ample time to eat and the freshmen opportunity to stockpile ammunition for the long return trip. After witnessing an exciting contest and a victory which sent the Lions on their way to the SPC title, the fans loaded the buses again.

Highlights of the return trip included pea shooter fights between mature juniors Brad Moore and Steve Skelton, the TKO of the freshman bus driver, and the total demolition of a Greyhound bus by the pubescent freshmen who clearly proved their manhood.

The ROAR was created this year by advisor Mr. Charles Williams and the ten seniors he selected as the organization's first members. After the rest of the forty-man membership was selected, the ROAR set out to serve the school in all possible ways and to create a new voluntary school wide spirit as opposed to the types of years past. Under the leadership of President Bob Holland and Mr. Williams, the ROAR sought to publicize all school events with posters, speeches, and a bulletin it published weekly. Later in the year they added a special bulletin board in the lunchroom to provide information for coming school functions. In addition, the ROAR sponsored the successful bus trip to Kinkaid, worked with the cheerleaders in preparation for pep rallies, helped decorate the campus on special occasions, and escorted trustees around the campus on Trustees' Day at SM.

This year's Student Council was one of much action and few qualms. The year started off with a bang? The council president was placed on the curriculum committee. The Constitution was rewritten. "Goals for Dallas" was endorsed as was Clean-up Day. The council also supported Steve Jacob's proposal for a uniform change and Harden Wiedemann's system of teacher evaluation. The Homecoming Dance and victory parties were. In addition, a Student Discipline Committee was set up.

The Student Council also represented the school to the surrounding community and therefore supported a proposal for a student exchange with other schools. A strong foundation has been prepared for next year's council.

assembly committee

Assembly Committee was composed of eight hard-working, self-sacrificing students who worked for no other reason than for their concern for St. Mark's. The year was productive; every assembly was filled. From Wanda Schenkman, astrologist, to Jim Collins, a politician. The students spoke also. Remember the early dismissals when Rob Tranchin and Rob Alberts spoke? Joel Goldblatt's sound track? Stony Savage's talent? For a club that never met, the Assembly Committee got a lot done.

film society

One of the most productive organizations on campus, the Film Society left everyone reeling. Under the notorious leadership of advisor Tom Lichten, public relations counsel Steve Jacobs, and other conspirators, the club presented the school with the likes of Hitchcock's Lady Vanishes, Duck Soup with the Marx brothers, David and Lisa, King Kong, Citizen Kane, and Leslie Gore's golden hits.

the ReMarker

News Release:

Our beloved leader, T. Randy W., came to St. Mark's many years ago after attending J. Alfred Prufrock Elementary School, where, incidentally, he was elected to the male half of "little Mr. and Mrs. Prufrock" in second grade.

Our beloved Managing Editor, Billy B. not only managed the Editor but the editorial page. He, along with the paltry few Execs who bothered with editorializing, earned this comment from Vice President Spiro Agnew: "The ReMarker Executive Committee, characterized by the bonehead editorials of Billy B. and his gang of bigots is a caustic cadre of bubbling bunk." Billy and his Blatherskites, as the Exec Committee is affectionately called by the often attacked, yet still unscathed, Student Council ("We're going to take over that %#()'*?¢%# paper yet."¹) replied to Spiro T. through the Spiro T. Agnew Support Club, William Thurmandson, president, saying: "We will continue to print tauroscatology as long as there is reader interest in it."

If you made it past our beloved editorial pages, you probably noticed that the ReMarks column was filled with everything from National Merit practice tests to the usual Rot. The ReMarker stayed on top of the news, reporting the controversial ordainment of Reverend Alan Stewart, and subsequently the "crucifiction" of Reverend Stewart, and the ReMarker itself in the following issue by irate but devout readers.

Rob Tranchin wanted his name mentioned.

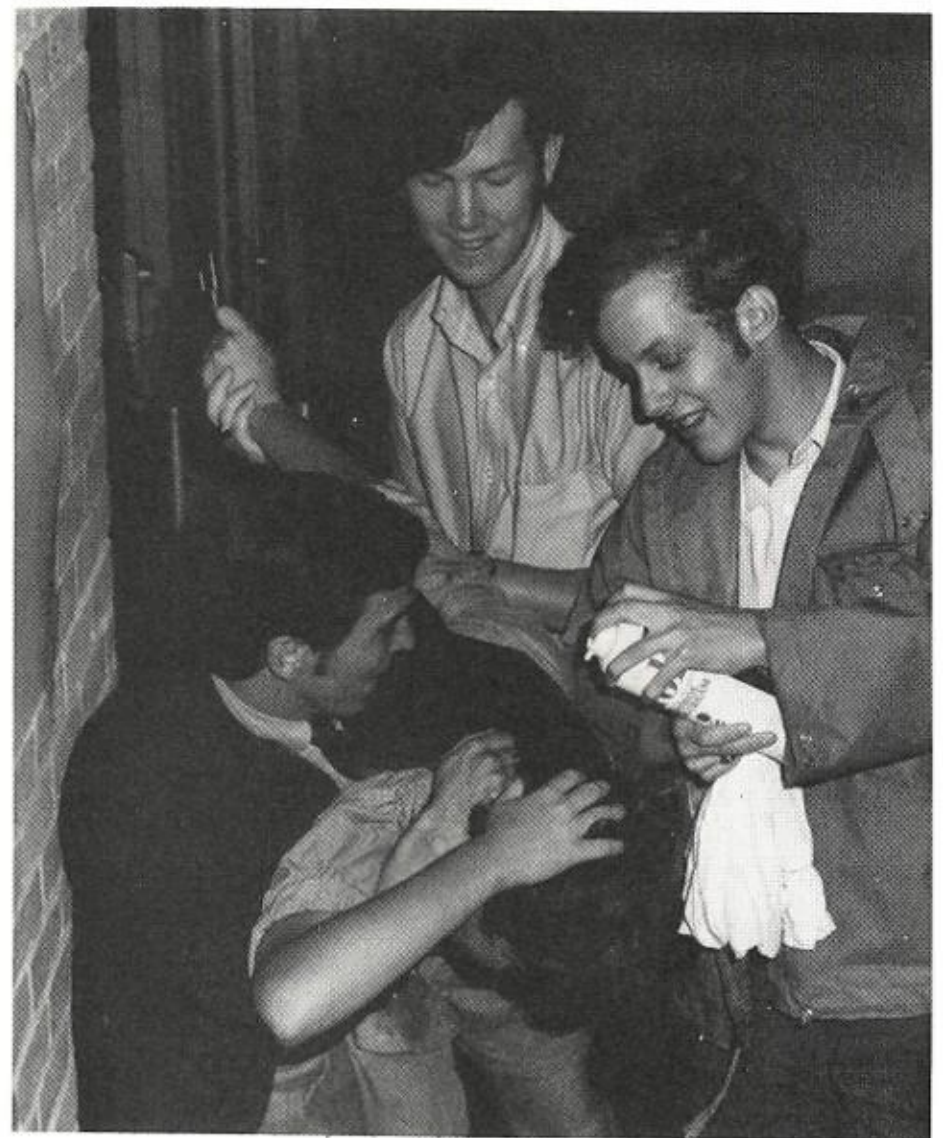

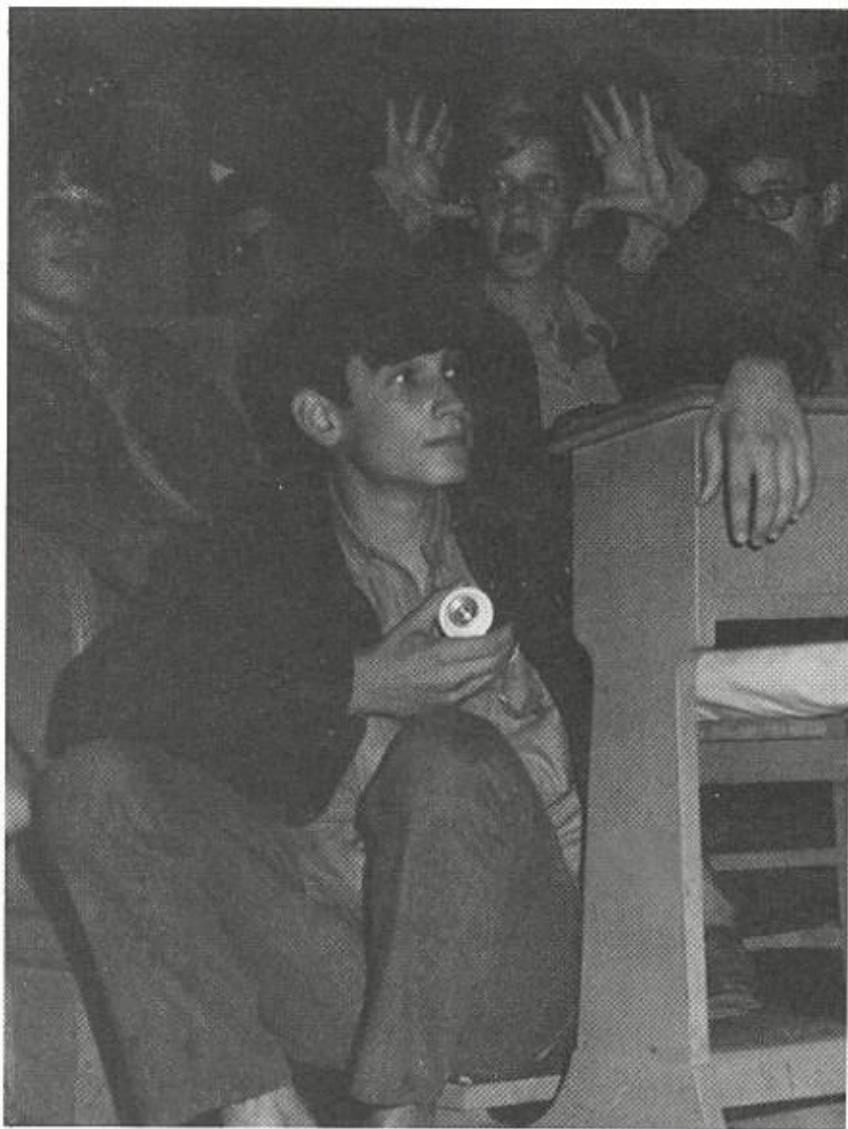

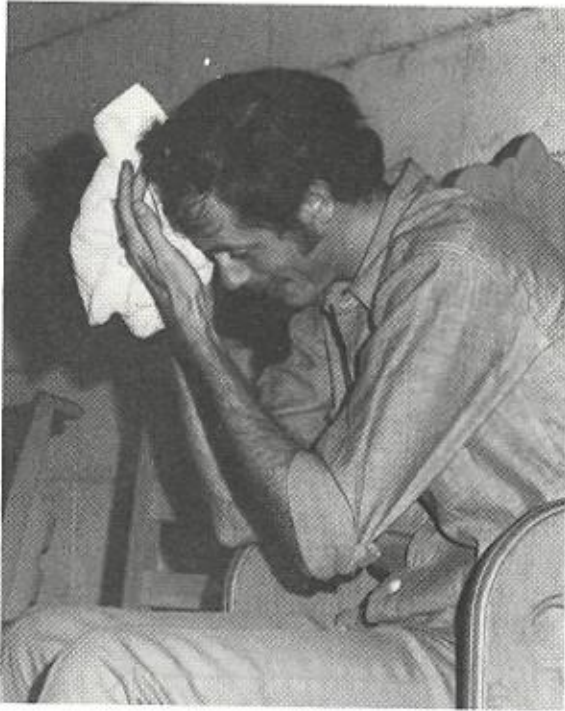

The rest is history, as it were.

The annual freshman puberty rites took place this year on Friday, October 11. The freshmen proved their maturity (note photograph lower left) through the use of shaving cream, water pistols, and other assorted shrapnel. (It should be noted that during the three weeks leading up to Freshman Day there was no shaving cream to be had within a four-mile radius of the school.)

The Morning Assembly featured Jake "turncoat" Freiburger on the guitar, while for the afternoon assembly the freshmen planned a prison break against their oppressors. Over-anxiously they made too much commotion and their break was repressed by their real warden, Mr. Connolly. As a final gesture the freshmen erected a monument of shaving cream cans on the site of Mr. Connolly's office.

band and band concert

Among the many school functions at which the Lion band performed were six football games (including the Kinkaid contest in Houston) and the first Jesuit basketball game.

The band was led by its three senior members, Lloyd Gordon, Fred Flohr, and Richard Smith, and by its director, Mr. Mario Foster. Twenty-six underclassmen composed the rest of this year's band.

Highlights of the year included the Christmas concert for which they featured a popular and semi-popular repertoire of tunes and the Spring concert at which the band delivered a program of dance-band type music like that of the 1940's. They also performed at the benefit performance of "Paint Your Wagon."

string ensemble

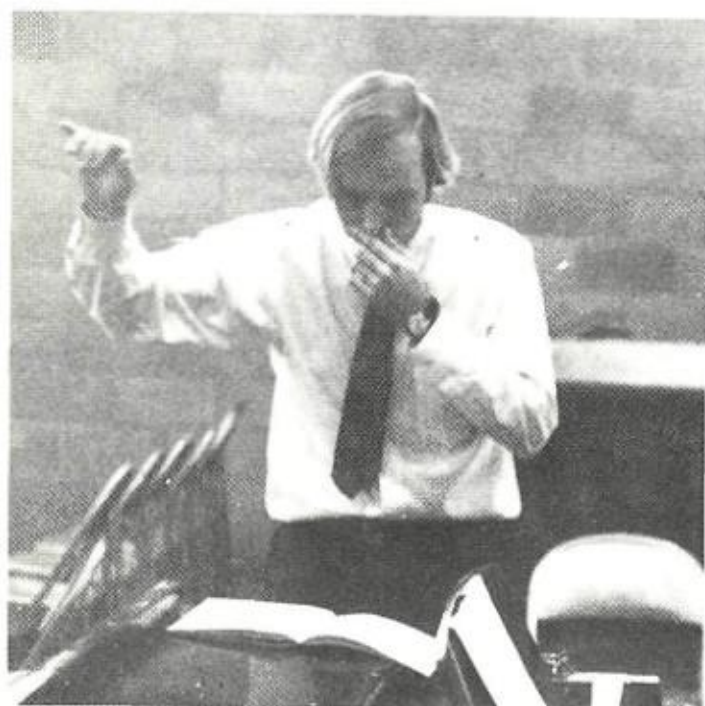

This year, the Strings program was extended into the Upper School with the addition of six upperclassmen who met four times a week. The Middle School ensemble also met four times a week and was divided into two groups, beginners and advanced. Upper and Middle Schools combined once a week to form the St. Mark's String Ensemble. They were joined by certain members of the band to form the St. Mark's Orchestra.

The String Ensemble and Orchestra performed during the holidays to give a Christmas concert. In the spring, they gave a series of three concerts to the Lower School, and at the end of the year played a large concert for the public.

The St. Marks GLEE CLUB is made up of upper school students who enjoy singing. This year, due to a lack of members and the desirability of mixed voices, the GLEE CLUB was combined with the CHOIR, the middle school vocal group, for all concerts.

Performances this year featured invocation combined with traditional style. The year's first performance, an Evensong, used sixteenth century settings of the liturgy. The Christmas season was highlighted by a service of nine Lessons and Carols.

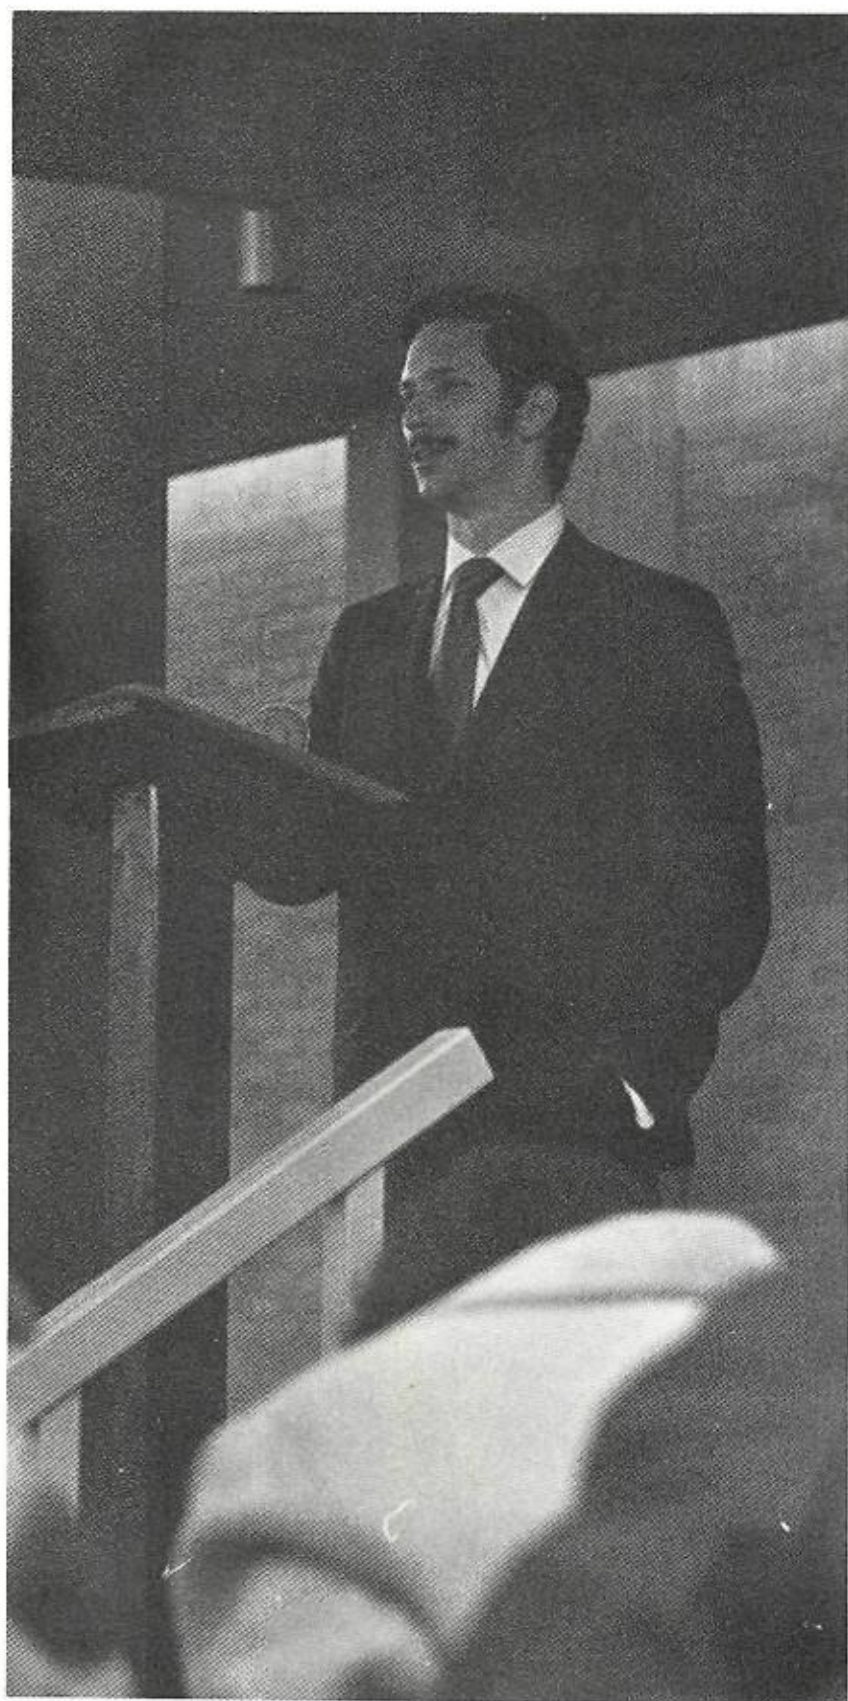

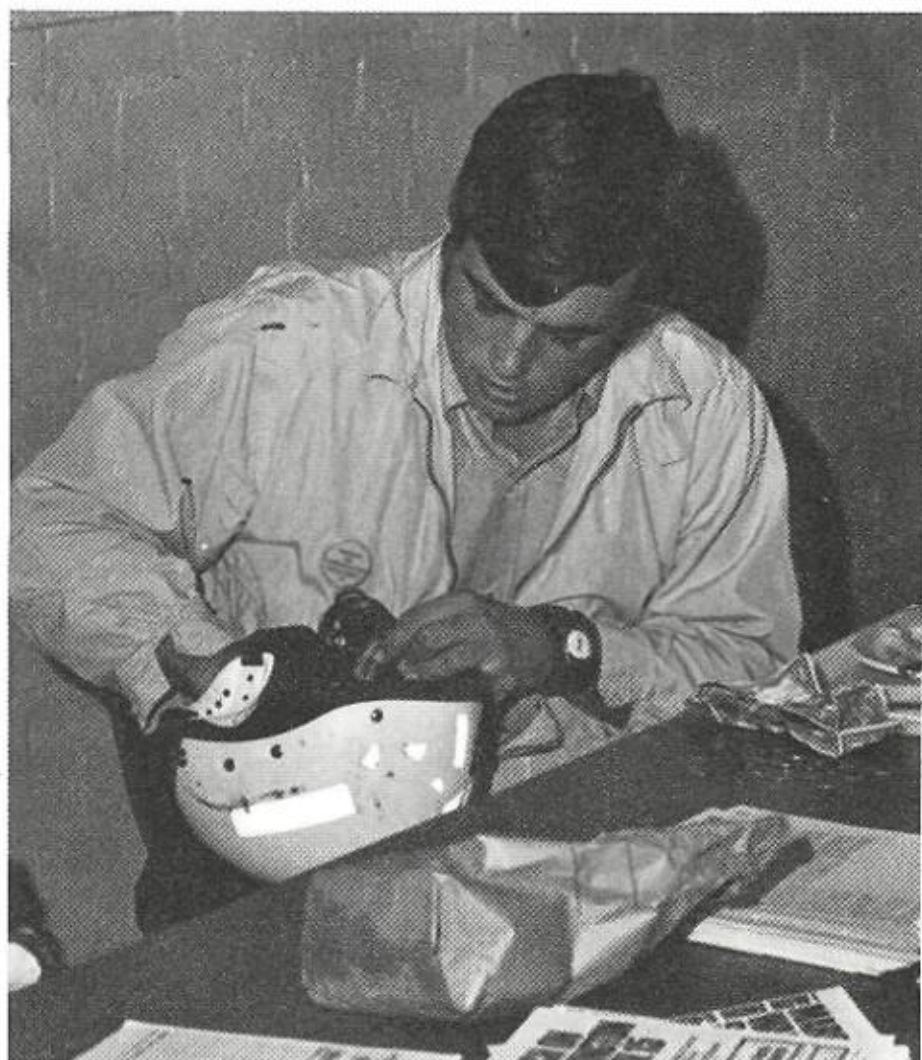

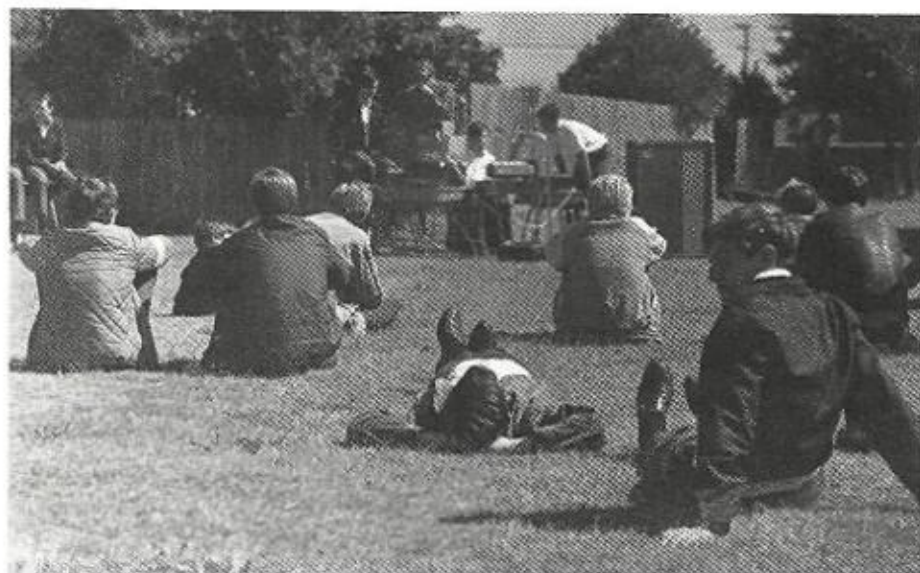

A performance was given in January to the Upper School. It combined music with assorted sound effects to show that music is not necessarily harmonious or ordered. The CHOIR and GLEE CLUB were both directed by Mr. James Livengood.

lion radio and tv

LION Radio and Television began broadcasting on Tuesday, January 5, thanks to the efforts of Alan MacAdams, Kevin Hunter, and Tim Spencer. A rapidly growing membership of over sixty students enabled the club to acquire new and improved equipment as the year went on.

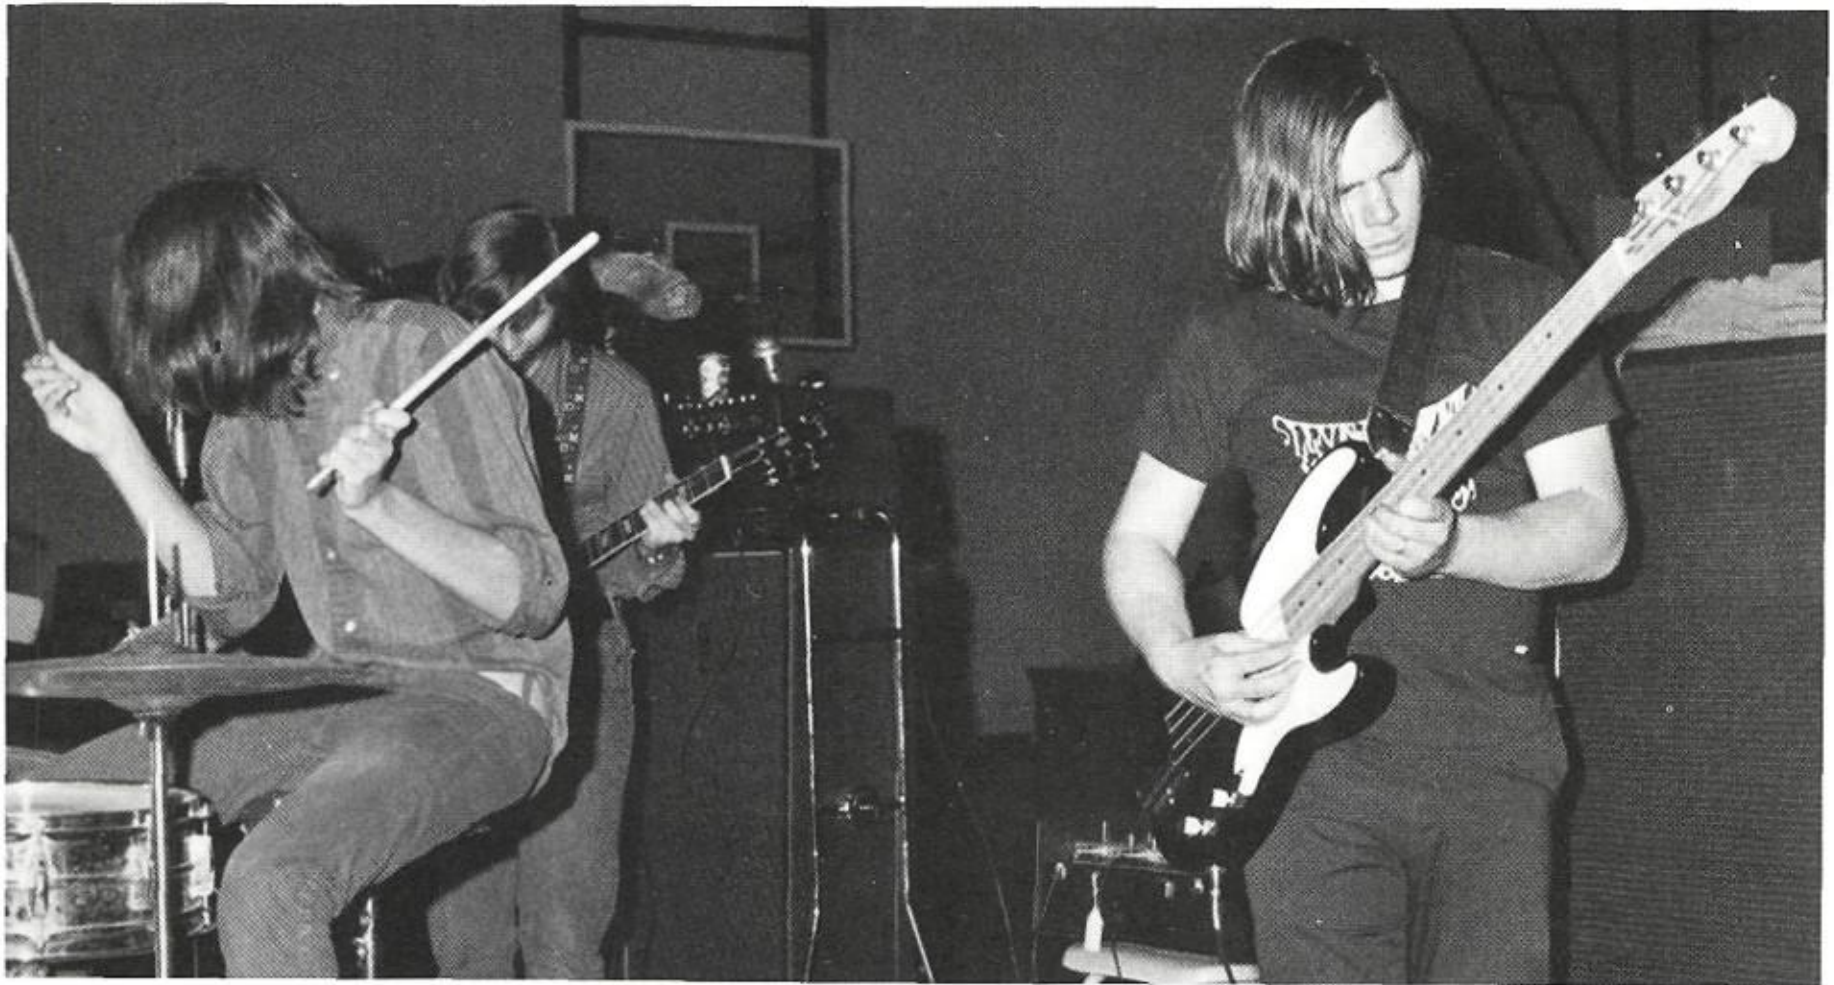

Though the club's operations were limited mainly to radio, it did start televising in late February with such shows as the replay of the SPC basketball finals. Their range reached Davis Hall, the gym, and the Fine Arts building. Television was limited mainly to the Math building.

moratorium

On October 15, St. Mark's students joined with millions of Americans all over the country in the Viet-Nam War Moratorium Day. Due largely to the efforts of senior Steve Jacobs and a hard core of determined seniors, Moratorium Day discussions, speakers, and anti-war films were the order of the day. The seniors were excused from all classes for the day to attend the events which included speakers in the morning such as Rabbi Goldenberg of Temple Emanu-El and GOP committeeman Frank Crowley. A special Mid-day Mid-Week of an anti-war readers theater was presented. The afternoon activities included three films, among them "A Time-Out for War," and anti-war music on the grass by the Chapel.

The 1969 Homecoming was kicked off by the Lions' exuberant victory over Casady to win the SPC crown. The music was provided by the Styx as the ecstatic fans migrated from the stands to the gym for the dance.

The theme of the dance was "Easy Rider." John Gunn, the vice-president of the Student Council, coordinated the decorations. Sophomore, Mike Katz, Freshman, Steve Fiedorek, and Junior Peter Mayo also had a hand in the festivities.

Before the year began, the cheerleaders were hard at work at the SMU cheerleader school. Despite an extraordinary lack of coordination, they managed to win several ribbons and a spirit stick. The experience gained there enabled them to present such elaborate productions as the "wiped-out-in-the-rear" skit, the Jesuit car smash, and numerous unscheduled antics at the games. These leather-lunged lion-lovers were Molly Barnes, Glenn Gottlich, Susan Kurth, Eddie Kyle, Brad Moore, Bob Munger, Mary O'Boyle, Gay Shults, Laurie Tobian, Margie Wagers, Gary Wolens, and yelling above them all, sponsor Mrs. Mary Stoll.

The Drama Club, under the leadership of Mr. Vintcent and club president Gary Pearlé, opened one of its busiest years by sponsoring a mid-September production of two one-act plays, The Zoo Story, by Edward Albee, and Dear Liar, an adaptation by Jerome Kilty. Both plays featured distinctive casts—The Zoo Story was performed by St. Mark's alumni John Alberts and Mark Capri; Dear Liar featured faculty members Mr. Vintcent and Mrs. Yves L'Helgoual'ch—and the production was, in every way, a successful and exciting beginning for the year's activities.

In late October, the club presented Dark of the Moon, a folk drama by Howard Richardson and William Berney, based on a legend of love and the supernatural in the Smoky Mountains. The show, which was presented in arena staging, played to overflowing houses each of its three nights in a production which emphasized the simplicity and sincerity of the characters whose lives the play depicts. After the close of the production, club members immediately began to prepare for a December production of U.S.A. A dramatic revue adapted by Paul Shyre from John Dos Passos' trilogy of the same name, U.S.A. focuses on the growth of America during the first third of the twentieth century. The club's production, a multimedia offering which employed acting, narration, film, slides, dance, and music, was certainly one of the most ambitious in its history; the success of the experiment proved again the club's—and Mr. Vintcent's—extraordinary capacity for exciting and professional theatre.

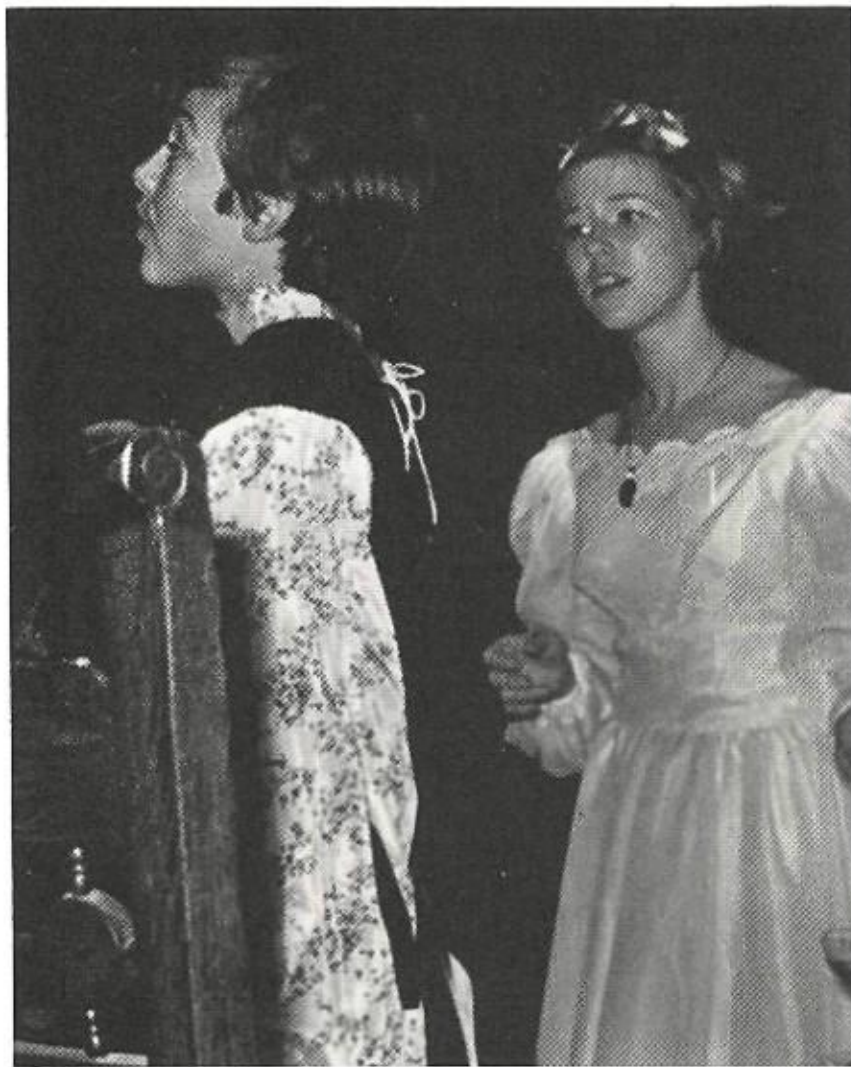

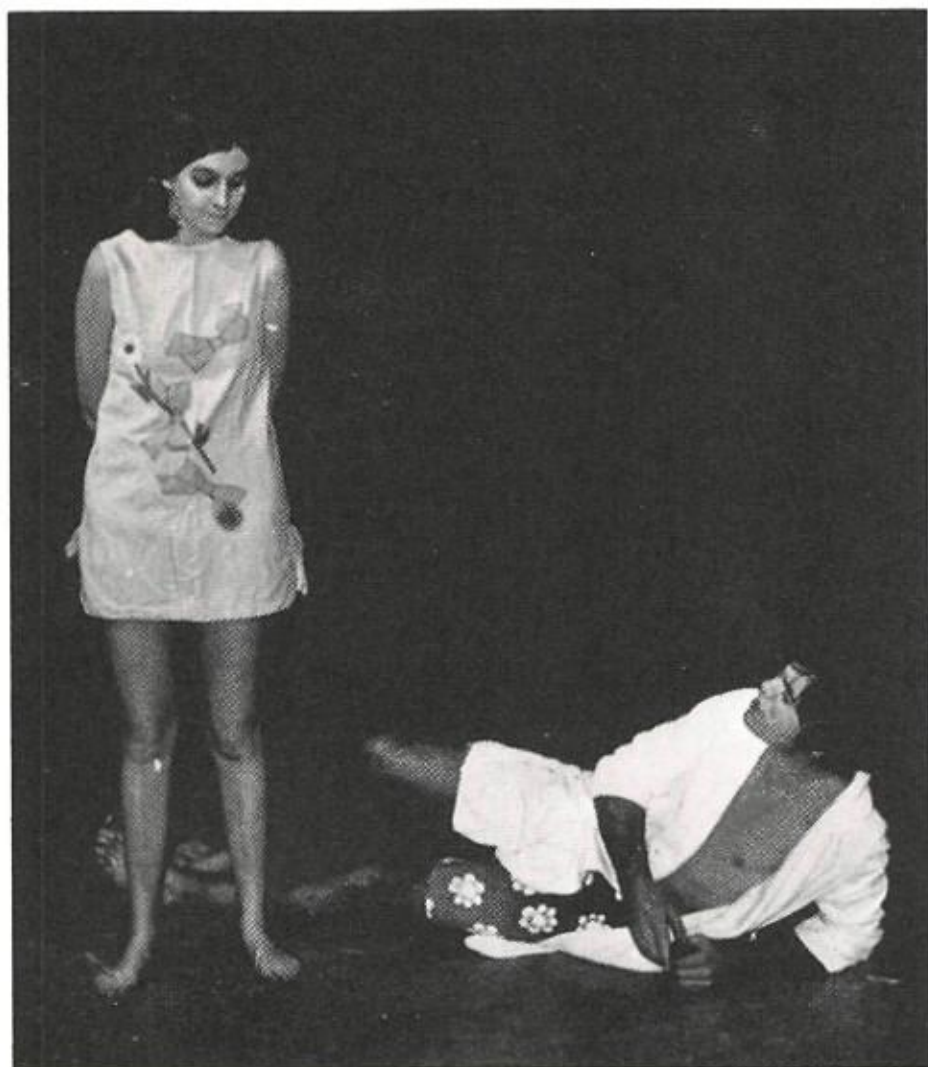

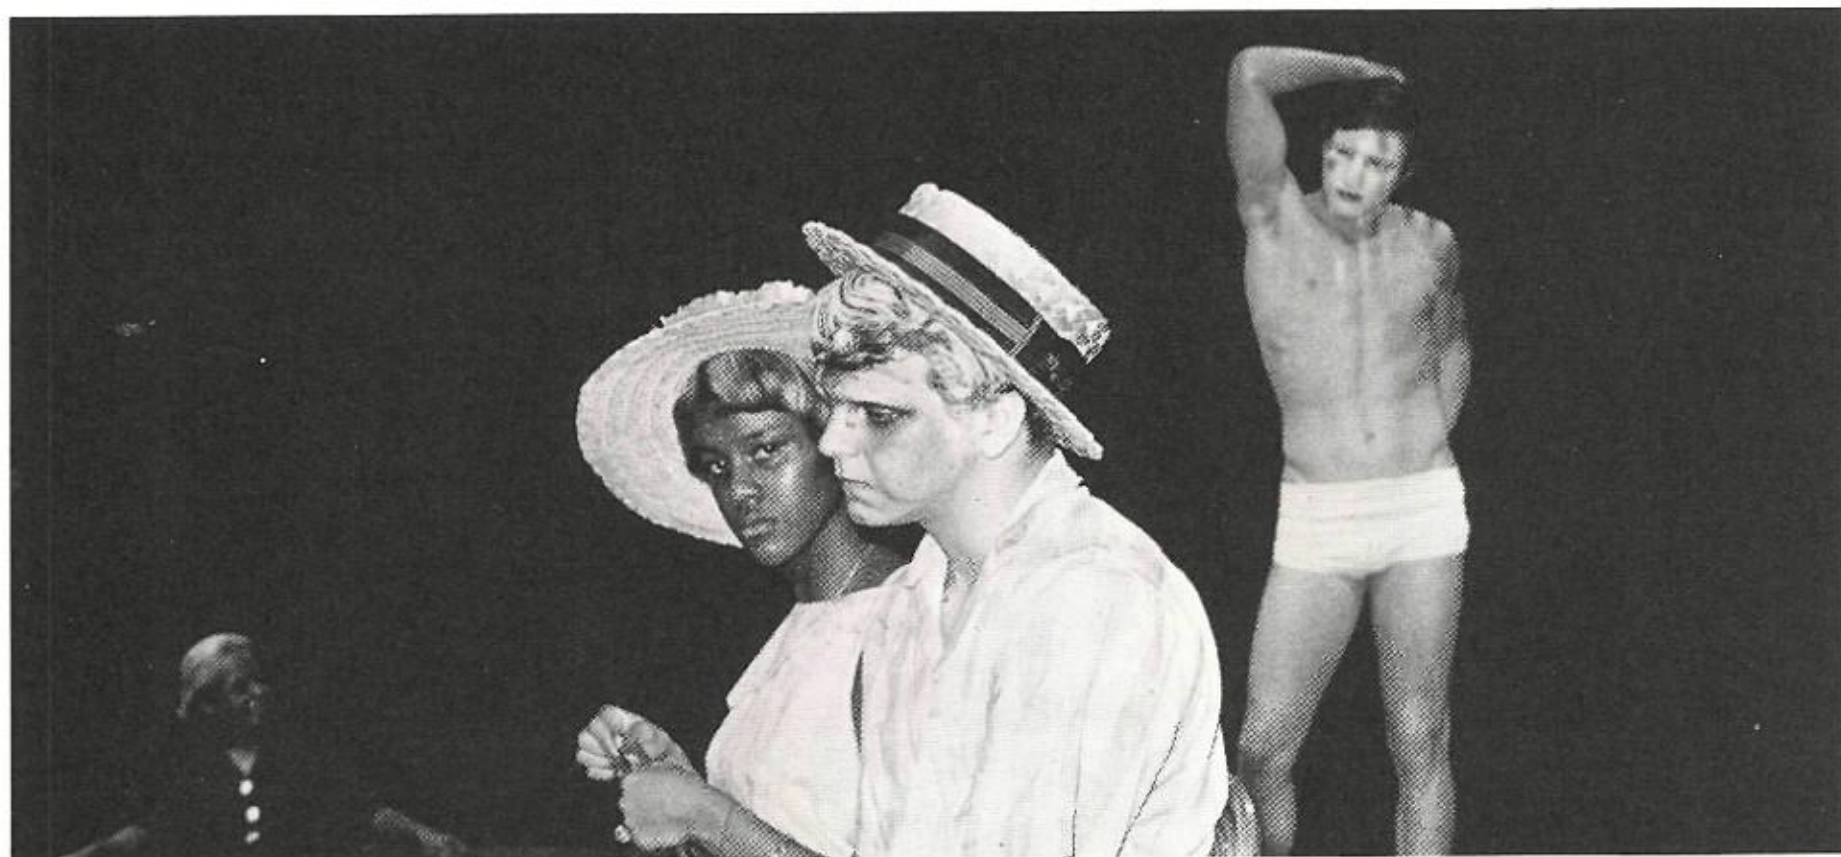

At the end of February, the Drama club sponsored, for the first time in its history, a festival of student-directed one-act plays. Under the leadership of festival chairman Rick Kronick, vice president of the club, students from nineteen high schools of the Dallas area directed and performed twelve plays, including works by Albee, Williams, Shaw, and Brecht.

The Drama club presented two spring productions: the first, a small-cast piece in April; the second, a full-scale production—the finale of an exciting year—in the middle of May.

west dallas tutorial

The West Dallas Tutorial is a group of Saint Mark's students who, once a week, travel to the Elmer Scott Community Center in West Dallas Housing Project. They work with underprivileged children, helping them, but mainly just being themselves. The experience has benefited both the underprivileged youths and the Saint Mark's students, who got a view of some of the problems of the real world.

The sponsors were; Mrs. Flanagan, Mrs. Murray, Miss Trial, and Mr. Lichten.

The 1969 Campaign was a successful blend of a soft and a hard sell. Little pressure was exerted upon the students to bring cans but every opportunity to do so was provided. The student body responded enthusiastically, giving the Campaign a successful start. Fishbowls were provided daily and other money collection occurred at Lion basketball games. Sandy Harris and Jake Freiburger led the can collection in the SM neighborhood, a facet of the drive vital to its subsequent success. Much credit is deserved by David Bednar who did an outstanding job in heading up the entire operation and Steve Jacobs who was responsible for transporting the cans to the three West Dallas missions.

Accompanying the arrival of the Yuletide season was the school's annual Christmas party. As in the past, this was held the day school was dismissed for Christmas Vacation. The entire student body, the faculty, and many parents, trustees, alumni, and friends all gathered that Friday morning in the chapel. The seniors hoisted the first graders up to decorate the tree, and other lower schoolers brought in presents for the West Dallas missions and placed them under the tree. The Reverend Raul Quintanillo of the Mission El Buen Pastor accepted the gifts. Also, David Bednar, chairman of the Campaign announced that 11,000 cans had been collected. The Glee Club, as is the custom, provided carols for all. Afterwards, the seniors loaded Mr. Quintanillo's car with the gifts for delivery to the missions.

Part I

It was a dark and stormy night. Suddenly a shot rang out. A door slammed. The dog barked. The maid screamed. Suddenly a pirate ship appeared on the horizon. While millions were starving, the king lived in luxury. Meanwhile, back on a farm in Kansas a small boy was growing up.

Part II

Back in Zelazouwala, Poland, Mr. Munger was starting a dynasty. The secret to his success was a boyhood friendship with the only Polish Hopi Indian in existence, Mr. Rothschild, who taught him the strange art of body construction as practiced by Mr. Kronick. Mr. Greaves chimed in.

Part III

The dynasty continued as Mr. Munger begat Mr. Pearle, Mr. Donovan, and Mr. Pearle-Donovan.

Part IV

Meanwhile back on the farm in Kansas, the small, but now full-grown young boy, Mr. Wolfram, suddenly begat Mr. Nixon, to the great astonishment of the starving millions. Much impressed by this feat, Mr. Dunlap begat Mr. Zilbermann. But the maid, Mr. Rubenstein, insisted the butler, Mr. Seidel, did it.

Part V

The pirate ship, captained by Mr. Shaps, approached its destination, a small South Seas coaling station, owned by Mr. Greenberg. Howsomever, 15,000 canoes filled with 9200 kangaroos, led by the infamous Norwegian tribesman, Mr. Upton, appeared on the horizon and harpooned the great white whale Mr. Fagadau. Mr. Masterson couldn't believe his eyes and queried, "Who played the dog?"

letterman's club

This year's Letterman's Club, having formed a resolution to do something more than exist, has been one of the most active organizations in school life. The constitution was revised, Dad's Night was organized, and the mums for Homecoming were provided. Under President Randy Nixon, an investigation was made into the site and funds for a permanent trophy case. The trophy case was obtained and placed in the hall near the receptionist. The Club also reviewed a proposal for the repair of all old trophies. During the winter SPC tourney, members of the club helped athletic director and sponsor, Mr. John Byrne, keep things running smoothly.

french club

spanish club

(bottom, opposite page) Con su jefe, el presidente Steve Young, el club Español ha visto varias películas en español. También, el club escuchó al Señor Mark Volk con su guitarra flamenco y a un AFSer sobre su viaje en Paraguay. Entonces, el club ha comido a El Fenix y ha hablado en Español exclusivamente.

PAPA, a group of St. Mark's students organized last fall, is a group dedicated to peace and political action. One of its first projects was to help organize Moratorium activities at St. Mark's in October and November. Since then, it has provided literature of such subjects as the draft and others of vital interest. PAPA, which has some twenty members, is sponsored by Mr. Gerald Hacker and was organized by junior David Schneider. It represents the first move on the part of the more liberal students at St. Mark's to organize a functioning body.

This year's Young Republican Club represented the "silent" voice of conservatism on the St. Mark's campus. Led by President Bob Holland and local committeeman Steve Garnsey, the GOP'ers circulated a petition supporting Nixon's Viet Nam policy. This petition was later sent to Washington and on to Hanoi.

In addition, they solicited speakers such as Commissioner Frank Crowley and Congressman Jim Collins to address the student body. Other Young Republicans addressed student assemblies themselves while still others worked on voter registration drives and community projects.

This year the Marque, St. Mark's literary magazine containing poems, short stories, photographs, and artwork of both students and faculty, celebrated its ninth anniversary by publishing Volume IX in the spring. In an effort to involve as many students as possible, junior editor Dave Lichten enlarged the Marque staff and appointed editors to handle the Marque's copy, photography, and artwork. These editors included Craig Anderson, Chuck Kaufman, Dana Keith, Doug Fletcher, Bob McElroy, Mike Long, Larry Brown, Elliot Jolesch, John Aronson, Steve Young, Bill Frazier, and Richard Blair. In addition to the material submitted by those at St. Mark's, the Marque also featured the traditional guest editorial written by a prominent personality in the Dallas area.

remarks-a-lot

Now publishing Volume III, the Remarks-a-lot, the Middle School newspaper, is edited by John Kemp and sponsored by Mrs. Flanagan of the English Department. Other members of the staff of this monthly publication are editors Ralph Ross, news; Harris Block, sports; Matt Lawrence, science; David Wilson, features; Charles Cravens, humor; Tom Lang, art; and Jeff Clark, business manager.

The American Field Service Committee spreads a sense of camaraderie and fraternalism among its members, the school, and the AFS students in Dallas. The group began the year with a spirited, bubbling get-together at the home of Bill Black. In March the committee sponsored a financially successful frolicking senior-faculty basketball game. Later in the year the committee brought several area AFS students to St. Mark's to relate their experiences and discuss their impressions of their visits to America.

national merit finalists

The class of 1970 held the distinction of having more National Merit Finalists, fifteen, than any other class in St. Mark's history. They were Robert Alberts, Patrick Dhooge, John Donovan, Lloyd Gordon, Larry Greaves, Rick Kronick, John Naab, Randy Orlik, Todd Pattist, Gary Pearle, Stacy Richardson, Robert Stern, Tom Upton, Randy Williamson, and Mark Zilbermann. All of these were eligible for scholarships in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

cum laude society

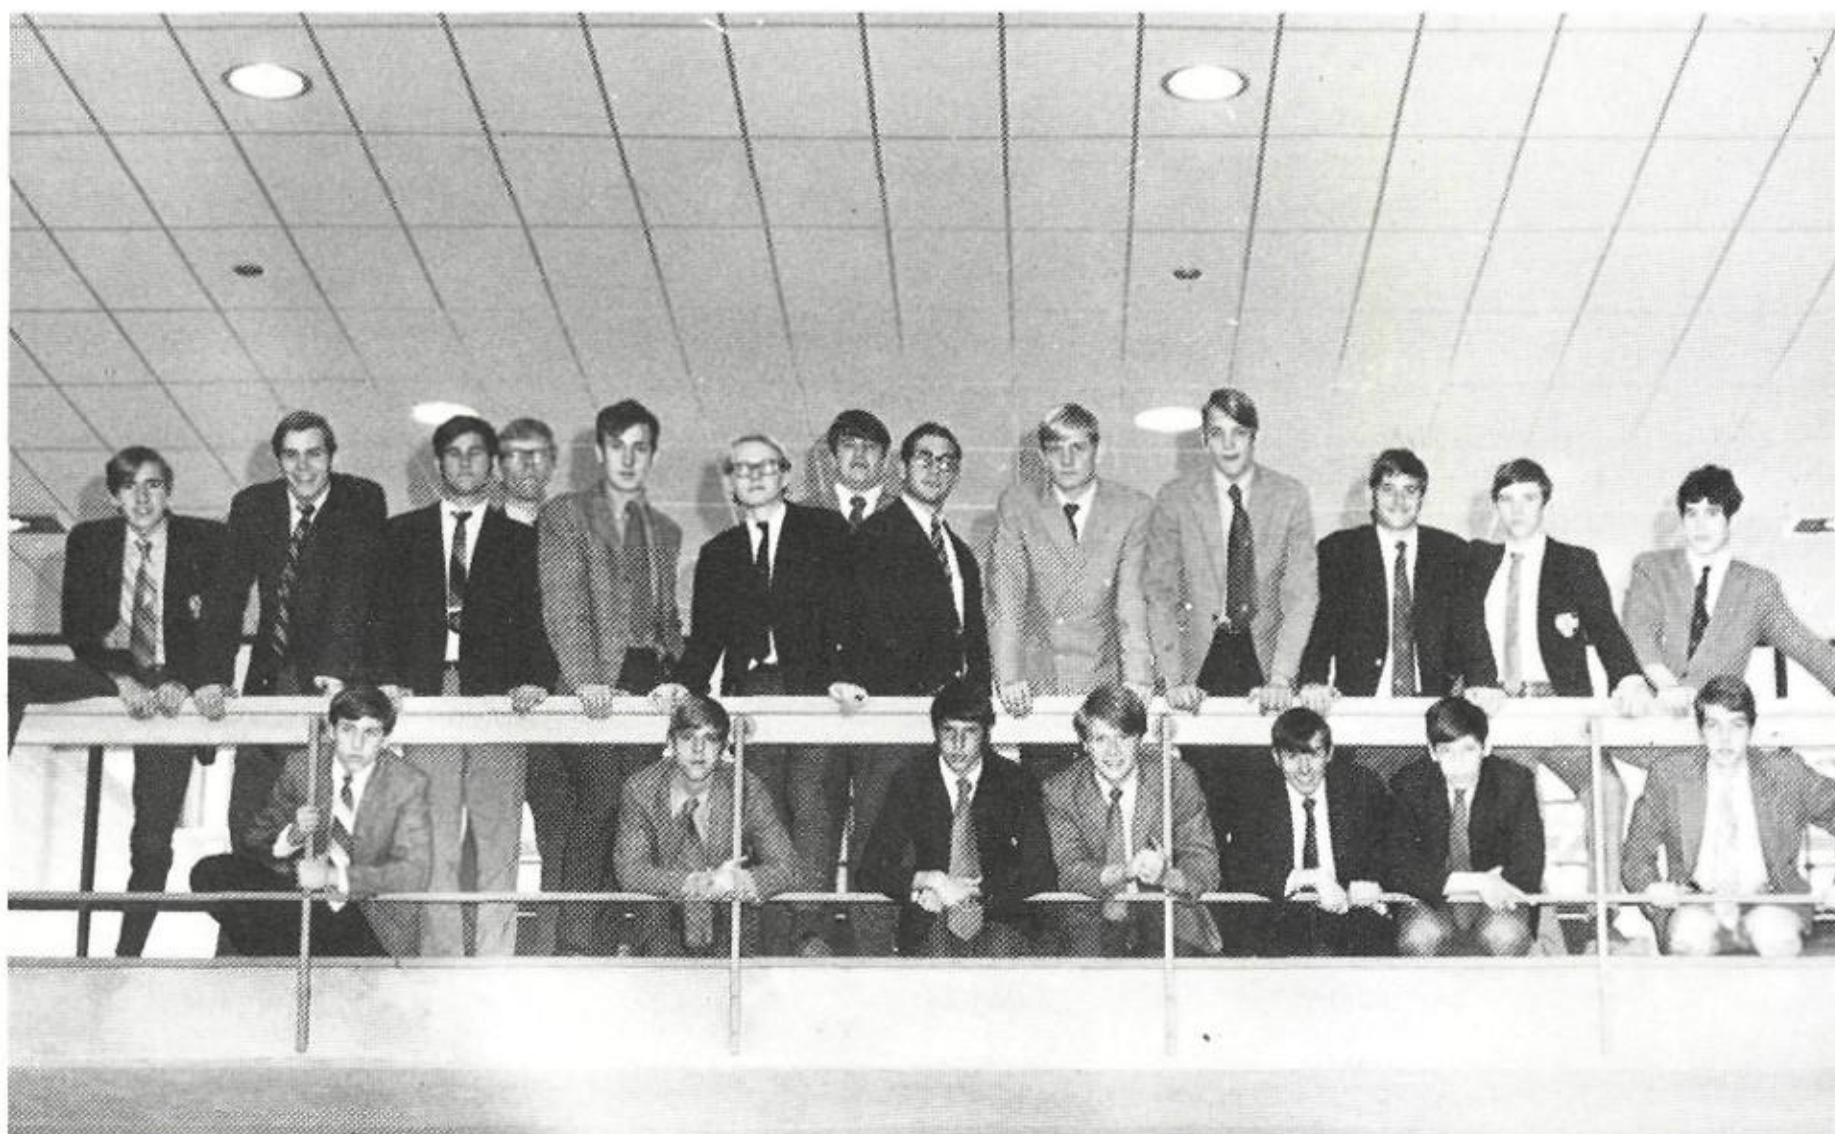

The Cum Laude Society is the one group on campus whose membership is based solely on academic excellence. The Society was founded in 1906 and patterned after Phi Beta Kappa, its university counterpart. The St. Mark's chapter was established in 1959. Its members include up to 10% of the Junior class and 20% of the Senior class, chosen by the current members.

Led by seniors Greg Hayes, Richard Redfern, and Steve Garnsey, the FLYING CLUB was completely overhauled this year. A ground school was organized to prepare members for their written examination and for the actual flying lessons to come. Further projects are being explored such as trips to various aviation facilities. The Flying Club has finally gotten off the ground.

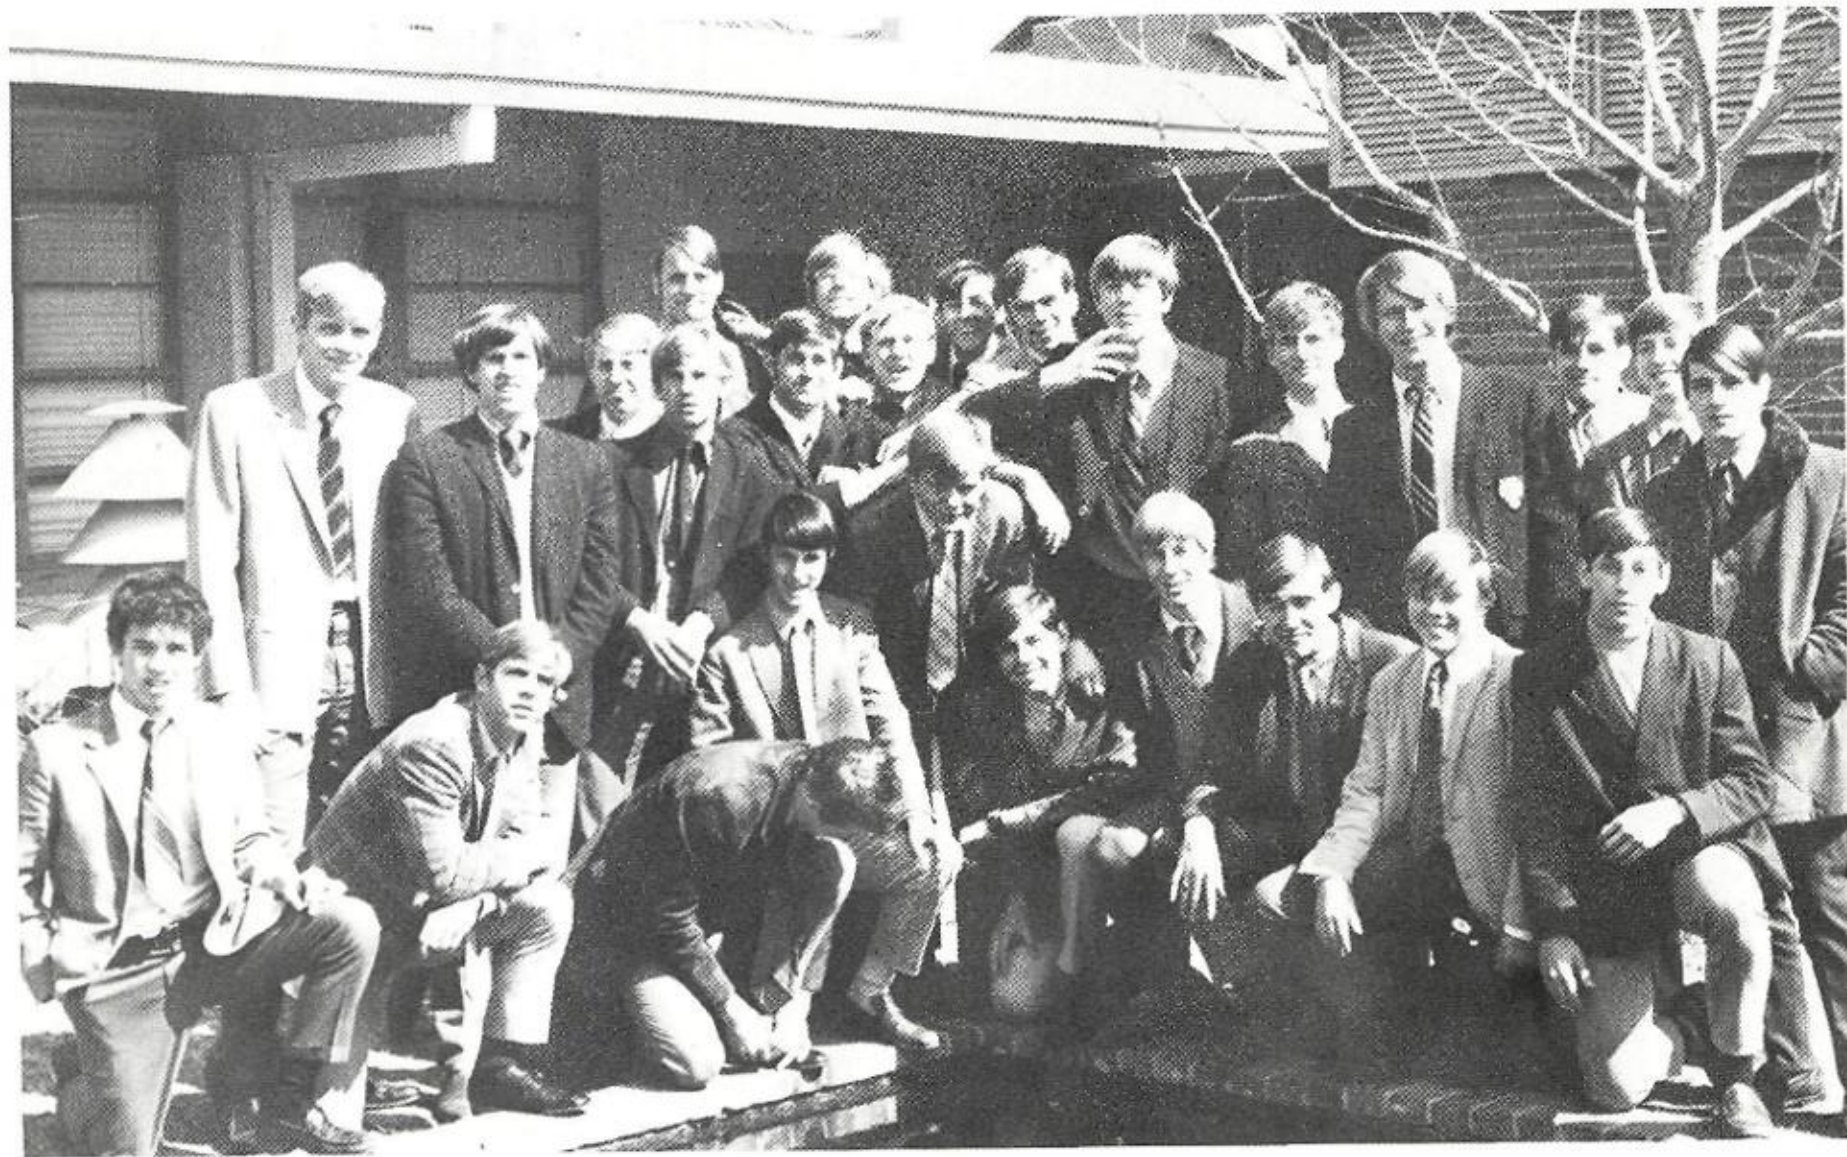

The purpose of this year's GUN CLUB was to have meaningful and enjoyable participation with firearms through competitive tournaments. Under the leadership of Steve Garnsey, G. C. Ellis, Tom Garnsey, and sponsor Mr. Stoll, two tournaments were held: the Student-Faculty Shoot (at which the faculty failed to show up) and the Father-Son Shoot. Tournaments in the making for next year include another Student-Faculty Shoot and a tournament with another school.

The SKI CLUB evolved under the leadership of Mrs. Dunn and Alden Wagner. It has a membership of fifty students who enjoy both snow and water-skiing. The purpose of the club is to make possible ski excursions for the membership. Included in the activities this year were a rally, ski movies, and lake trips. Twenty-five members of the club visited the mountains of Colorado to show off the form of the St. Mark's Ski Club.

astronomy club

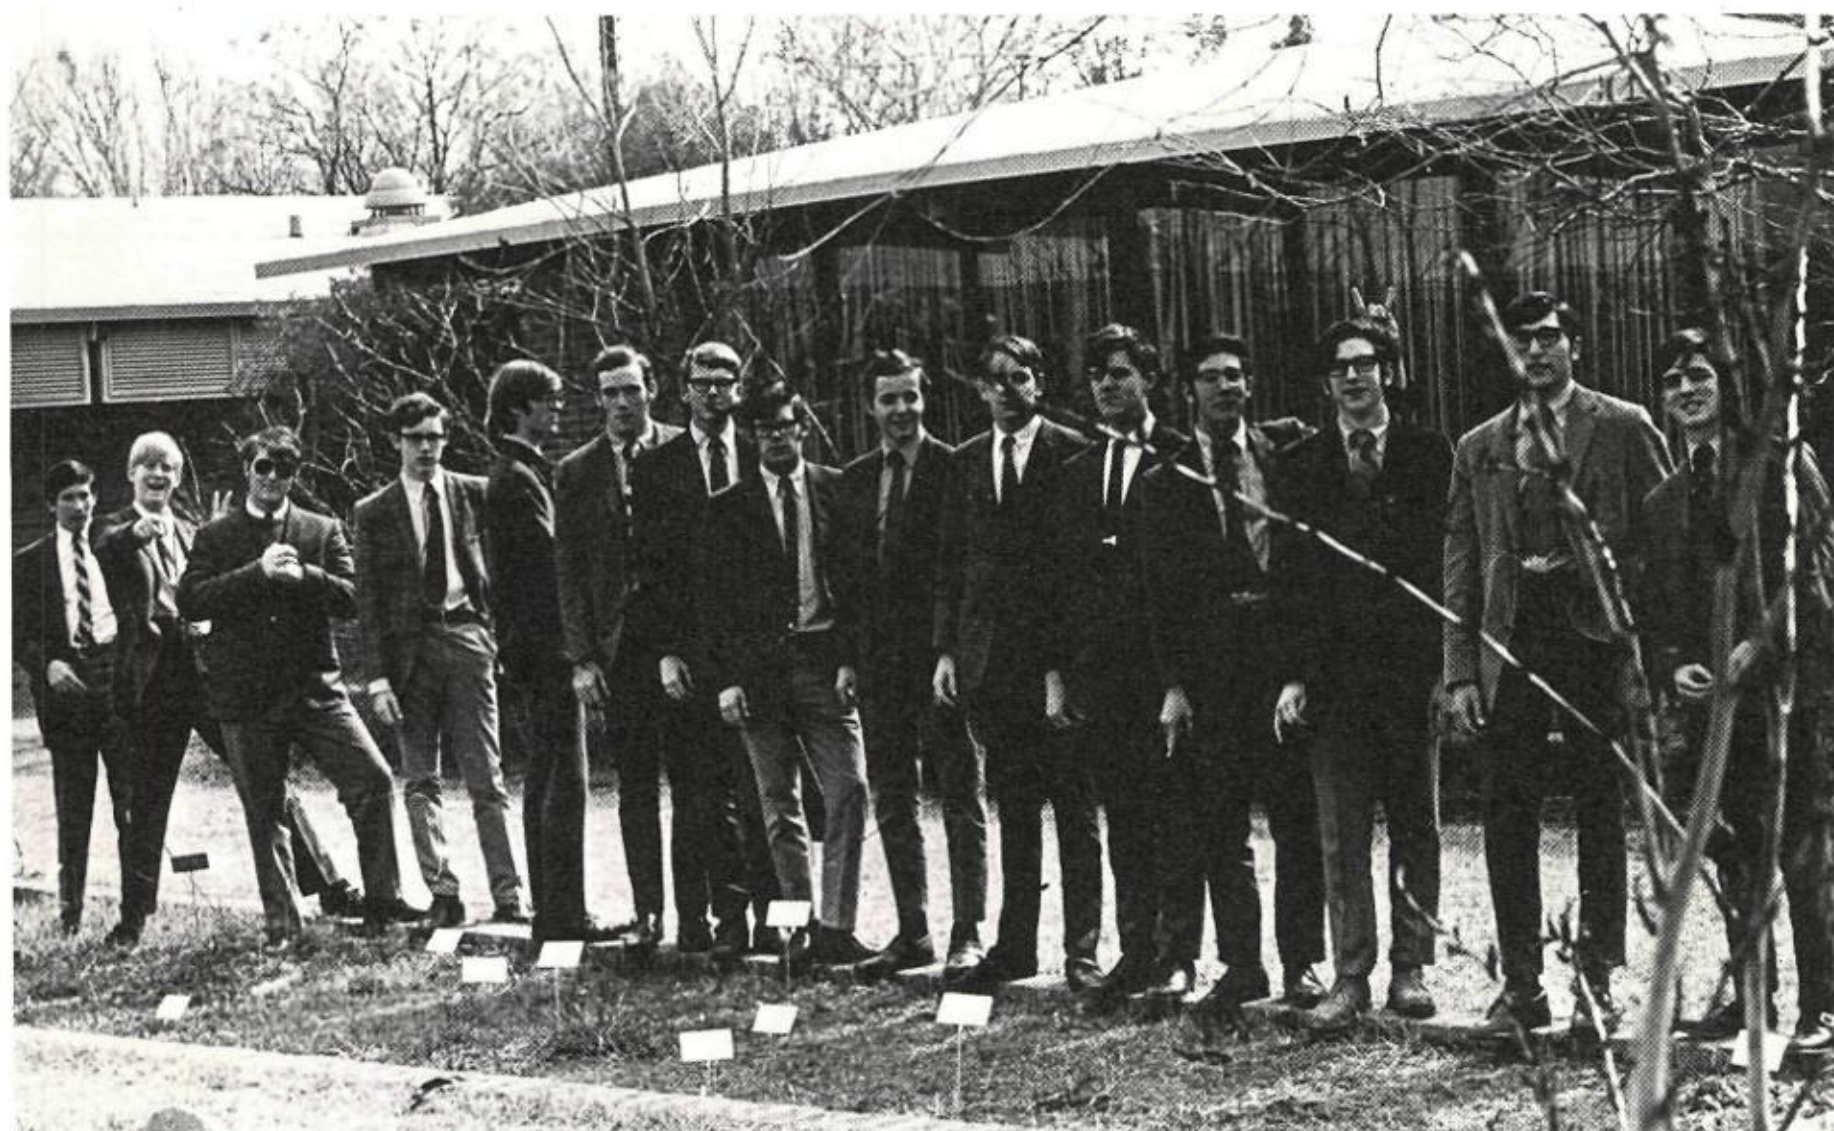

This year's ASTRONOMY CLUB was completely reorganized due to the acquisition of the sixteen-inch Maksutov telescope. The club meets twice a month to discuss group projects (i.e. observing special astronomical events) and individual projects. Composed mostly of those who have had an astronomy course, the Astronomy Club has approximately twenty-five members, with Mr. Dexter as sponsor. Each member is expected to become familiar with the operation of both the Spitz A3 planetarium and the telescope and is encouraged to give planetarium presentations.

The purpose of the SCIENCE CLUB is to increase interest in the sciences among the students and to give the student body opportunities to expand their interest to the Dallas community. Led by president John Naab, veep Tom Upton, and secretary Kevin Hunter, the club this year became a member of JETS, Junior Engineering and Technical Society. The club's main project was a trip to the state-wide JETS convention. The sponsor of the Science Club was Mr. Callihan.

Under the direction of Mr. Northcutt, the PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB has about forty-five members, mostly freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. The purpose of the club is to interest those who know a little about still photography and who want to become more proficient in its techniques. Classes in specific techniques were held periodically and members were allowed to use the darkroom at any time, with or without supervision.

seven wins, two losses

The St. Mark's football squad began workouts in the stifling heat of August. Two-a-days increased the stamina and execution of the team and provided the coaches a chance to see who really wanted to compete.

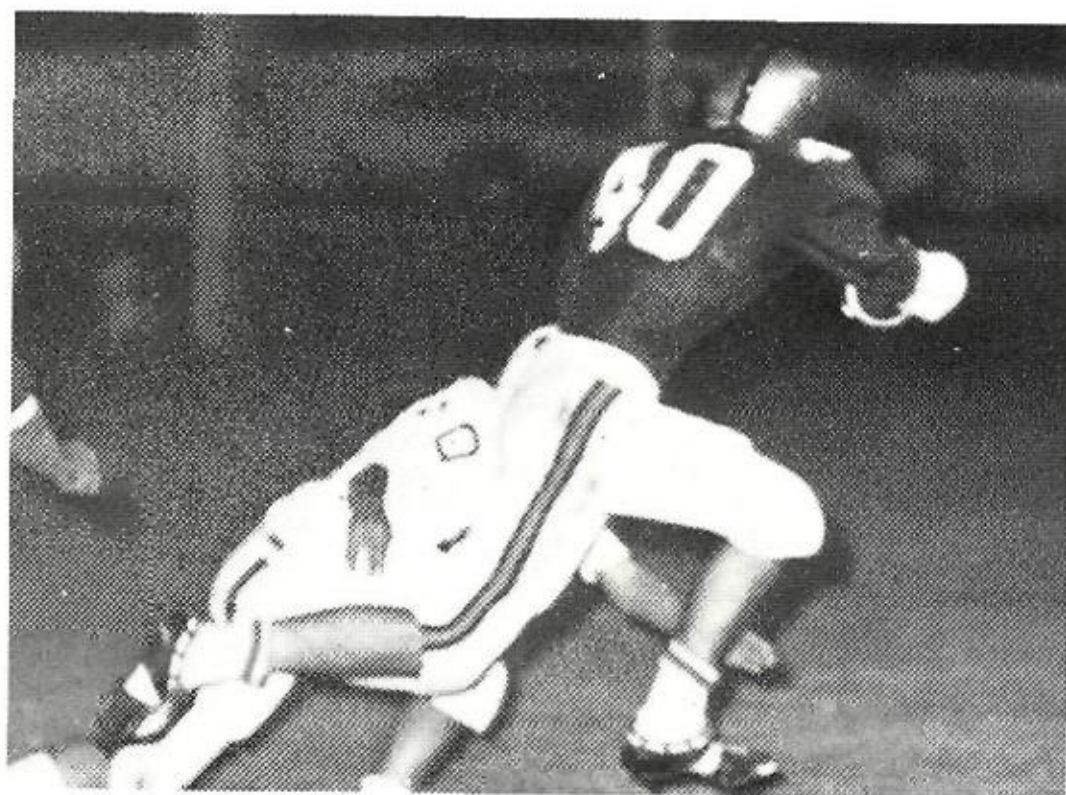

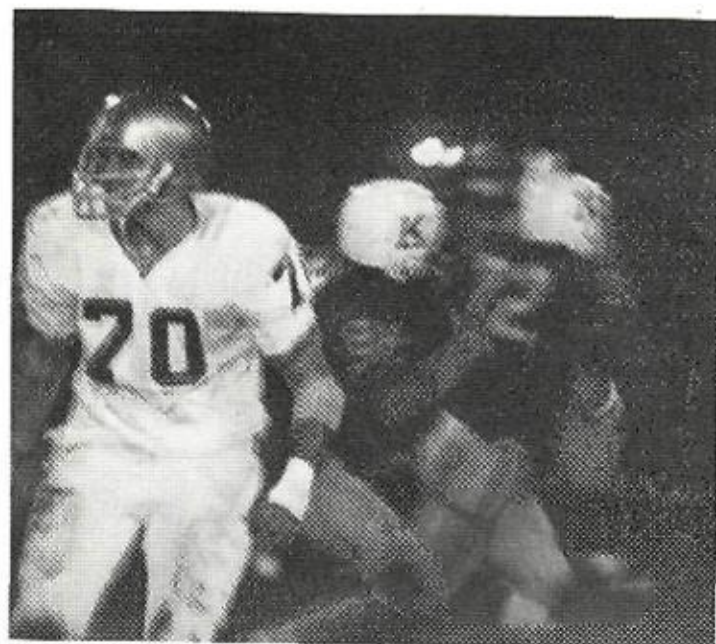

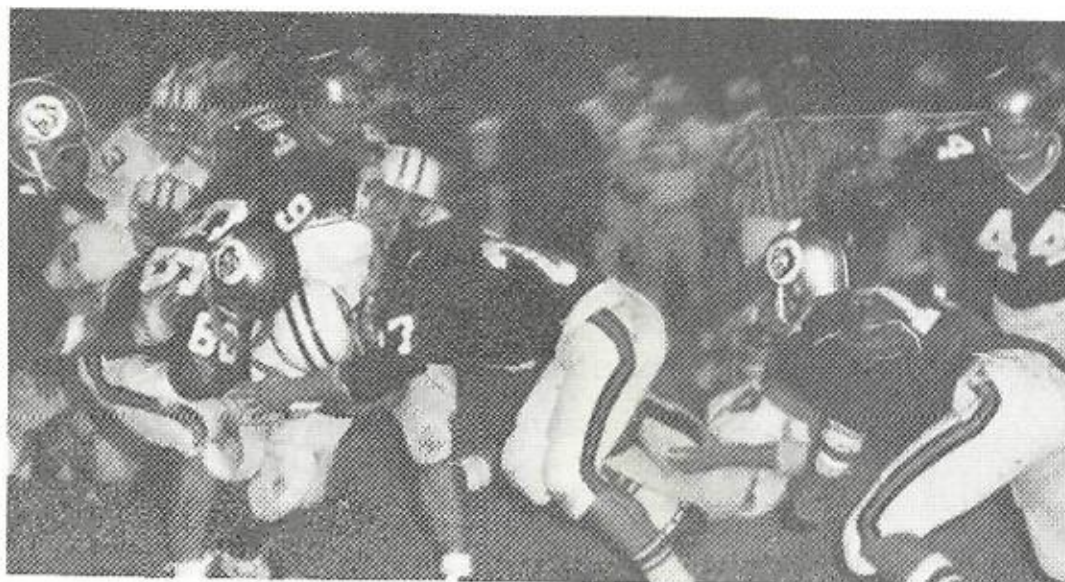

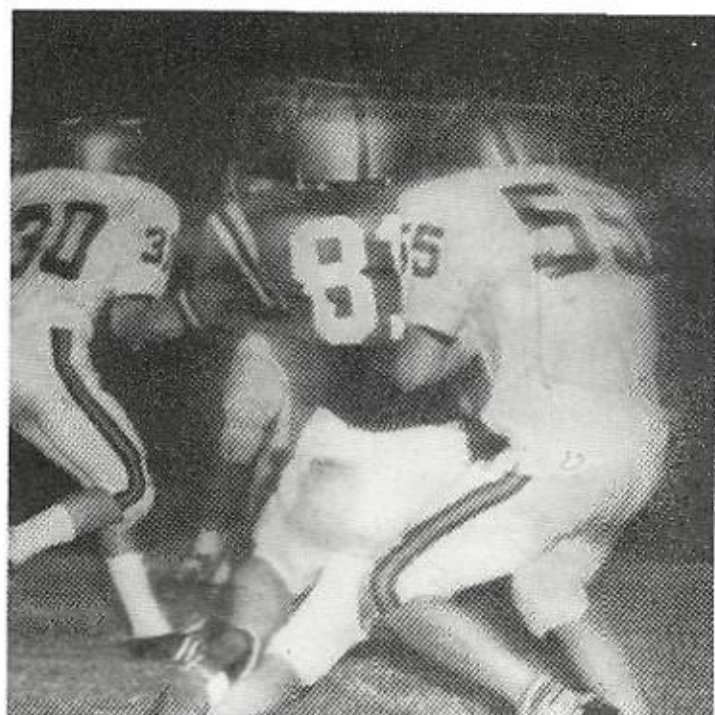

On August 23rd the Lions scrimmaged Greenhill at St. Mark's. The offense clicked and the defense contained the Hornets well. A scrimmage against Fort Worth Nolan proved to be less successful, but no great setback. The team prepared for the season with a new-found determination.

Football '68 was described as "nothing but a first step to something better." The Lions began to reach that "something better" against Fort Worth Christian ...

FORT WORTH CHRISTIAN began and ended the scoring, but in between these touchdowns the game belonged to St. Mark's. The Lions came alive quickly and defeated the Cardinals 40-13.

Offensively the Marksmen amassed 324 yards, and the defense was dominating, allowing the Cardinals only 89 net yards. Randy Nixon scored twice on short runs, while Strelau scored once and rushed for 63 yards in 11 attempts. All three Lion quarterbacks, Kerry Getter, Chuck Kaufman, and Bobby Amundsen, accounted for points either on the ground or through the air. The Cardinals were no match for the Lions as the final score indicated.

WAXAHACHIE had the best pair of running backs the Lions would have to face all season in T. J. Hutchinson and Joe Jefferson. They proved their worth as Waxahachie rushed for 345 yards.

The Lions, however, also had an offense. Quarterback Kerry Getter passed to Hawkins Golden for a twenty-four yard touchdown in first quarter play, but the extra point try failed. The Indians soon retaliated and made the score 7-6. There things remained until the third quarter, although twice the Lions reached their opponents' three-yard line without scoring.

Following halftime, the Indians quickly scored twice and stretched their lead to 21-6. Things looked dim, but the Lions began to gain steam once again. Hawkins Golden tackled the Indian quarterback in the end-zone for a safety, and substitute quarterback Bobby Amundsen passed to Chris Jordan for a fifty-three yard touchdown play. The Lions lacked seven points with but six minutes remaining.

Waxahachie iced the game on a long jaunt by Jefferson, but Amundsen still managed to make things closer with a final-second touchdown. Although they lost 28-20, it was one of the Lions' best season efforts. Thoughts began to turn towards Dallas Christian ...

St. Mark's defeated DALLAS CHRISTIAN 19-7 in their first meeting ever. The first quarter was scoreless as each team tested the other. The Lions drew first blood on a four yard run by Nixon early in the second quarter. St. Mark's soon scored again on a twenty yard trek by Crawford Bunkley. The offensive line consistently opened up gaping holes for the Lion runners. The Chargers closed out the scoring in the first half through a pass interception for their only score of the game.

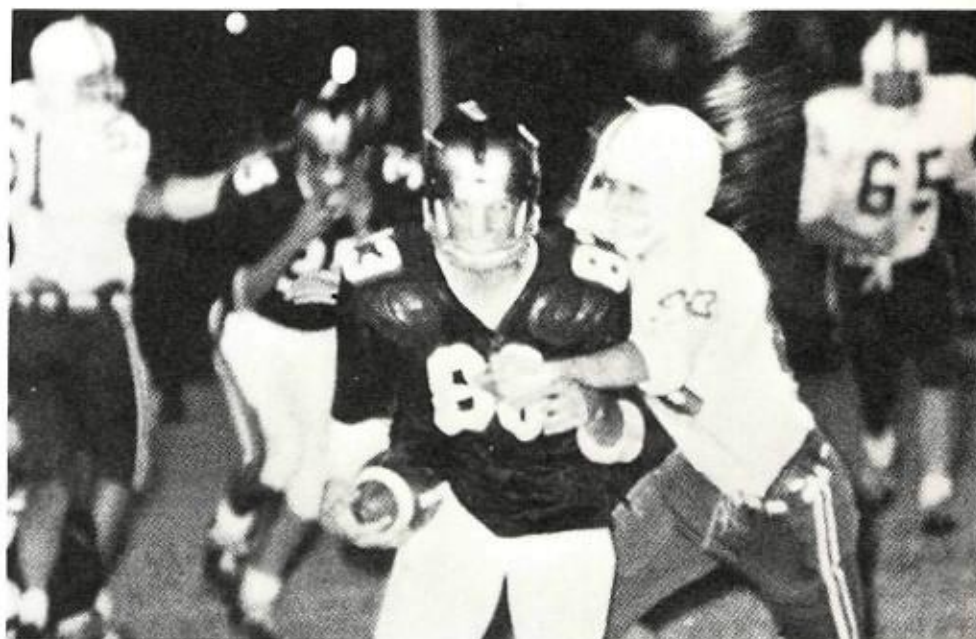

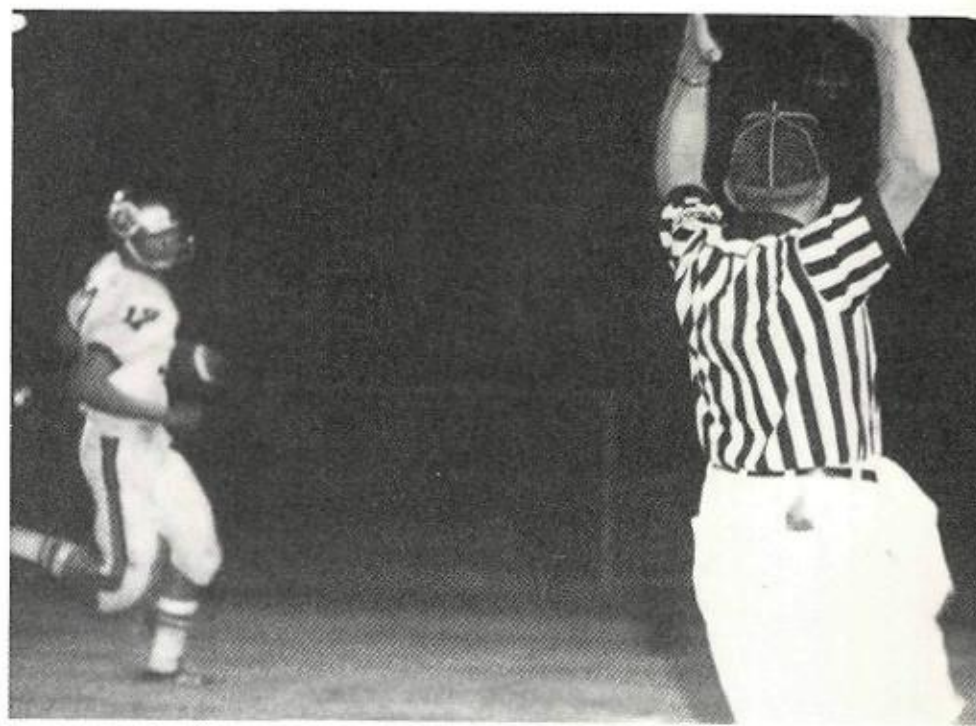

The defense played excellent ball in the second half as Dallas Christian engineered several drives into Lion territory, but were unable to score. In the final minutes of the fourth quarter, the Chargers lined up fourth and goal. A sure touchdown was averted by the excellent play of Randy Nixon who dropped the Charger quarterback at the one yard line. Nixon also capped the night's scoring on a twenty yard runback of an interception with less than a minute to play.

Sandy Harris, Anthony Knape, and Steve Garnsey played excellent defensive games and State Lawrence punted five times for a 43.5 yard average. The stage was set for Jesuit ...

JESUIT continued their streak of wins against St. Mark's by downing the hapless Lions 35-6. The game, however, was much closer than the score indicated.

The Lions made mistakes in great quantities—penalties, dropped passes, mental blunders—throughout the contest and this factor limited their scoring ability. Jesuit scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second, and led at halftime, 21-0.

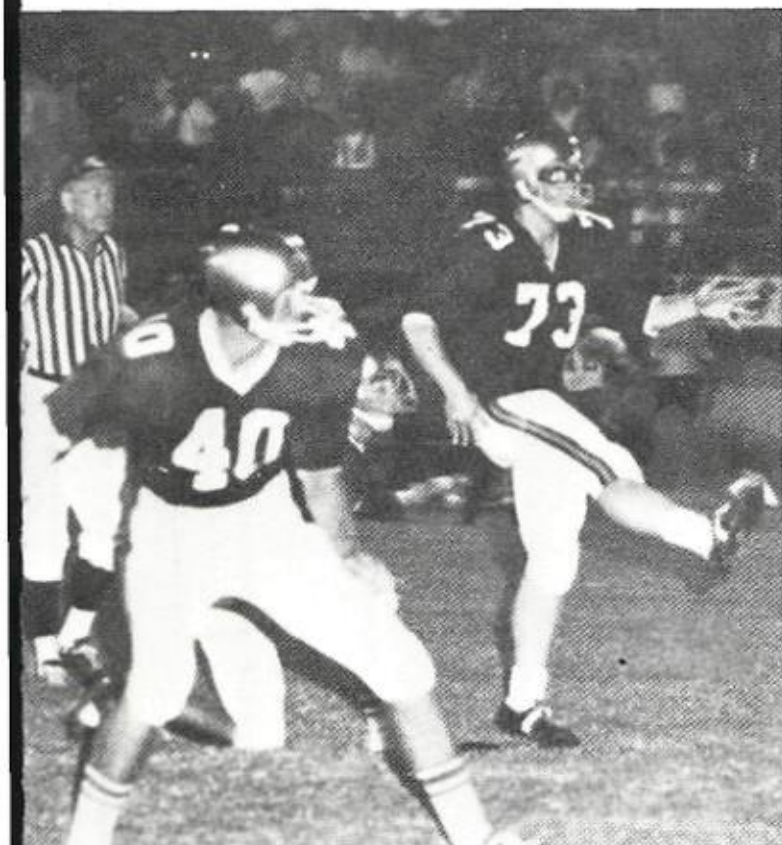

St. Mark's only score came as Bobby Amundsen passed to Crawford Bunkley for a twenty-two yard touchdown. Jesuit proceeded to tally two more touchdowns, and the final score read 35-6. The game was extremely drawn-out because of some 268 yards meted out to the two teams for penalties. St. Mark's dropped a big game, but it was to be their last defeat of the season.

"Jesuit beat St. Mark's, 35-6. Lynch can just about name its ticket this weekend. And Dunne will be able to as well next week. The Lions are as weak as they've been in many a year . . ."

BISHOP LYNCH came into the St. Mark's game undefeated, sporting an awesome running attack led by Jack Coneff. Pre-game impressions served little use as a tough Lion defense held the Friar's running machine to only 54 yards and St. Mark's won, 16-15.

Junior Greg Heape kicked a 27-yard field goal, which proved to be the winning margin, for the only score in the first half. Bishop Lynch gained the lead, 7-3, early in the second half on a seven-yard pass play. Their lead was short-lived as Randy Nixon charged 62 yards for a score. Soon to follow was the spine-tingling play of the season. From the St. Mark's 11, Getter tried to hit Joel Shaps with the bomb, but a Friar defender tipped the ball. Chris Jordan hauled it in and went the remaining distance for the score. The Friars scored once more in the final minute of play, but the Lions defeated the eventual T.C.I.L. district champions by the score of 16-15.

BISHOP DUNNE invaded Bailey Field on October 10. For the third week in a row, St. Mark's faced a Catholic school power. The final score, 7-6 in favor of St. Mark's, was little indication of the manner in which the Lions dominated the contest.

Nixon and Strelau teamed to produce 228 running yards, each having 100 yards rushing. However, the offense could not seem to put the ball across the goal. The Lions did not score until the last of the second quarter when Strelau rambled 19 yards to the goal. Heape placed the ball through the uprights for the important extra point. St. Mark's led 7-0.

Bishop Dunne scored on a 13-yard run with six minutes left in the game. Their attempt at a two point conversion failed as Hawkins Golden and Tom Garnsey teamed to make a game-saving tackle. Dunne's last attempt at scoring was negated by Nixon's interception of a Falcon pass.

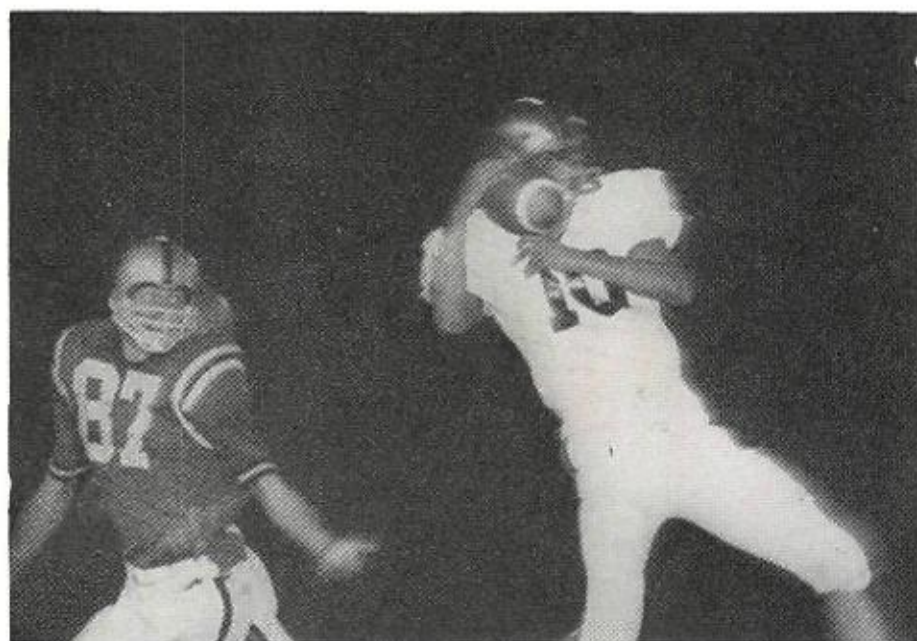

Mark Zilberman, Anthony Knape, and Sandy Harris played excellent games defensively. The Lions embarked into the S.P.C. part of their schedule with a 4-2 record, and their sights set on the Rebels from St. John's ...

The Rebels of ST. JOHN'S became the Lions' first victim in SPC action as they fell 9-7; the third game of the season decided by two points or less.

On the Lion's first set of downs, the running game ground out sixty-three yards to the Rebel three, but a penalty stopped the drive there. St. Mark's was forced to put only three points on the scoreboard as Hawkins Golden's field goal was good. Two beautiful touchdown runs by Nixon and Tom Garnsey were called back also due to a red flag, but the Lions finally scored as Nixon raced twenty-two yards into the end-zone. The extra point attempt failed and the Lions went to the dressing room with a 9-0 halftime lead.

St. Mark's could not get their offense moving in the second half, but the defense got tougher. Tom Garnsey and Chuck Kaufman made key interceptions of Rebel aeriels, and Mark Zilberman led the defensive line in stopping the run. The Rebels did manage to score seven points on a one-yard quarterback sneak in the third quarter. State Lawrence did an excellent job of punting, twice placing the ball at the St. John's two. St. Mark's held on to the 9-7 lead, and journeyed to Houston again the following week to play Kinkaid . . .

KINKAID lost only one starter from the previous year and they were definitely a challenge for the Marks-men.

Throughout the first quarter neither team was able to score. The initial Lion tally came on an eight-yard pass play from Getter to State Lawrence. The PAT was good and St. Mark's led 7-0. Kinkaid retaliated quickly. Two runs of fourteen and eighteen yards, a fifteen-yard pass, and the Falcons had scored. The try for two failed and St. Mark's held a slim 7-6 halftime lead.

The Lions kicked off in the second half and seconds later the score was 12-7, as the Falcon ball carrier made an eighty-nine-yard return. Their lead was short-lived, however, as Nixon blasted fifty-five yards for the go-ahead touchdown. The extra point by Golden was good.

From this point in the contest, the Falcon offense was smothered. A fake field goal attempt netted the Lions the final points of the game. Golden and Getter lined up to kick the thirty-one yarder, but quarterback Getter took the snap and passed the ball to Crawford Bunkley, who was wide open in the end-zone.

Nixon gained 103 yards on the ground, and Getter had his best game passing, directing the offense well. By their victory over Kinkaid, the Lions assured at least a share of the conference title. To gain the outright championship, the Lions had to defeat Casady . . .

Kerry Getter led the Lion offense in its most potent display of the season as the Lions smashed CASADY, 34-18. Getter was at his sharpest as he hit two touchdown passes and called an excellent game. Strelau, Bunkley, Nixon, and Golden all ran well as St. Mark's scored with ease.

The defense kept pressure on the Cyclone offense all night. It was a familiar sight to see Richard Smith, Hawkins Golden, and company harassing the Casady quarterback.

As stated earlier, the Lions scored with ease. Getter passed to Chris Jordan for the first score, a thirty-yarder. Golden's attempted extra point was wide, but he made good on the next four. Nixon and Strelau scored on short runs. Rose caught one for a score, and Strelau ended the Lions' scoring on a fourth quarter eight-yard run.

The Lions whipped Casady and there was little doubt as to the identity of the S.P.C. champions.

It is only a trophy, wood and metal. Yet its attainment symbolizes the success of the season. From a meager 3-6 record in the previous year, the 1969 Lions won seven games and lost only two, the best varsity record in eight years. They won an outright S.P.C. championship, no asterisks.

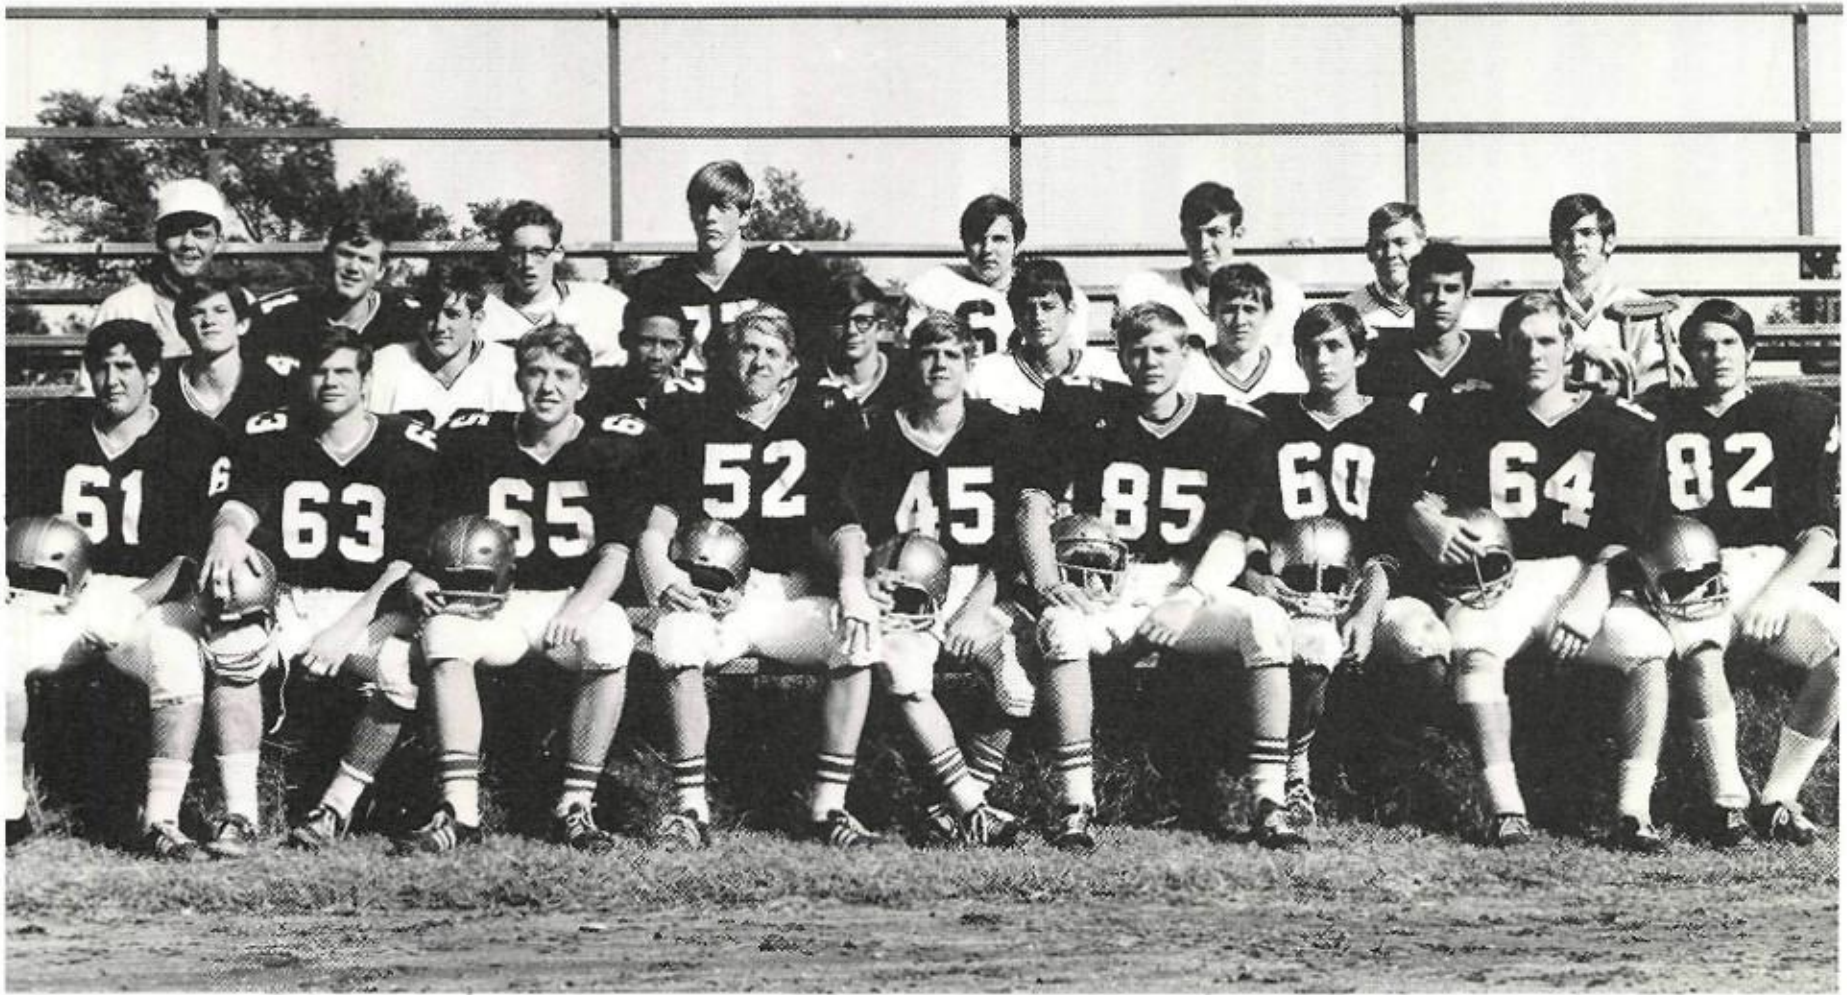

Individually, the Lions were impressive. Getter passed for 672 yards. Jordan caught 11 passes for 257 yards; Tom Garnsey caught 16 for 174; and Bunkley caught 12 for 137. Strelau rushed for 639 yards; Nixon gained 493; Bunkley gained 223, and Tom Garnsey gained 178. Knape and Golden led the defense, ranking first and second in tackles. Zilberman, Harris, and Steve Garnsey paved the way for the rushing attack, ranking first, second, and third in blocks.

The St. Mark's Cross Country team, coached by Mr. Mailer, worked extremely hard this year in order to condition themselves to run the two-mile courses which are the basis of the sport. They placed well in area meets which are dominated by the larger 3A and 4A schools. They also competed in the St. Mark's Invitational which was held at the White Rock Lake conference course.

SPC Cross Country was held November 8 at the conference course in Dallas. Casady again returned to Oklahoma with the SPC championship, and for the third year in a row St. Mark's finished second. Robert Crawford led the Lion harriers, finishing ninth. He was followed by captain Greg Hayes placing tenth, Allen Bashour—eleventh, Robert Singers—twelfth, and Bob Shelton placing sixteenth. Doug Fletcher and David Lichten also ran in the SPC meet.

Fencing at St. Mark's began five years ago with the arrival of Monsieur Daniel P. Nevot. Through his guidance, the fencers have continually had a good record in A.F.L.A. (Amateur Fencer's League of America) tournaments and school-sponsored competitions. Each year at least one member of the team has qualified for the National Championships. Led by Sterling, Ladyman, McGee, and Hanes, the team consistently took top honors in the foil, épée, and sabre tournaments. The season was very successful. The school champions were: foil: Travis Hanes, épée: Henry McGee.

The '69-'70 varsity basketball team, coached by Mr. Adams, began the season quite slowly but finished strong and recaptured the S.P.C. basketball championship. Despite the dismal beginning which saw the team post a four win-eighteen loss record, the cagers "got together" and made a great comeback. The Lions won ten of their last thirteen games, and posted a fourteen-twenty-one final season record. Some of the losses were good efforts against tough 4A teams. The Lions lost two heart-breakers to South Garland, each game falling short by two points. Bishop Dunne made a last second basket to defeat the Lions in a one-pointer. The Lions played excellent games against Ft. Worth Paschal and Mesquite, both with top teams. They defeated Casady twice during regular season play.

The Lions lost their final regular season game to T.C.I.L. state champions, Jesuit, 78-91. The team played a good game and gained momentum for the SPC tournament. In their first game in the tourney, the Lions faced St. John's of Houston. Although the Lions did not play one of their best games, they did defeat the Rebels, 54-49. Casady was their next opponent, and this game was all St. Mark's. The fired-up Lions smashed Casady, 81-56 and advanced to the finals against St. Stephen's.

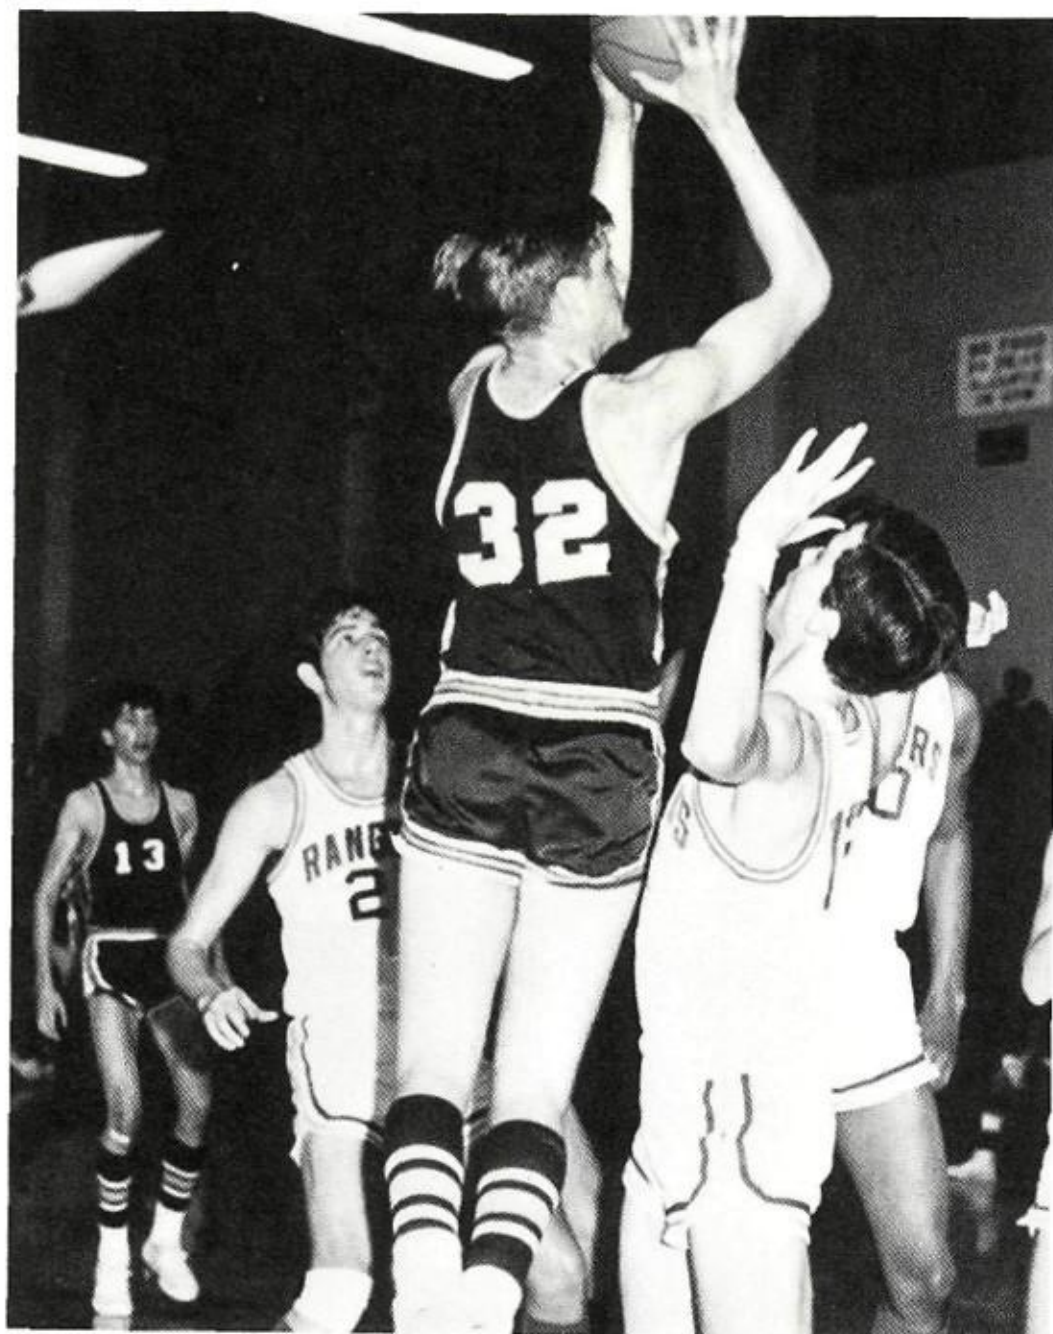

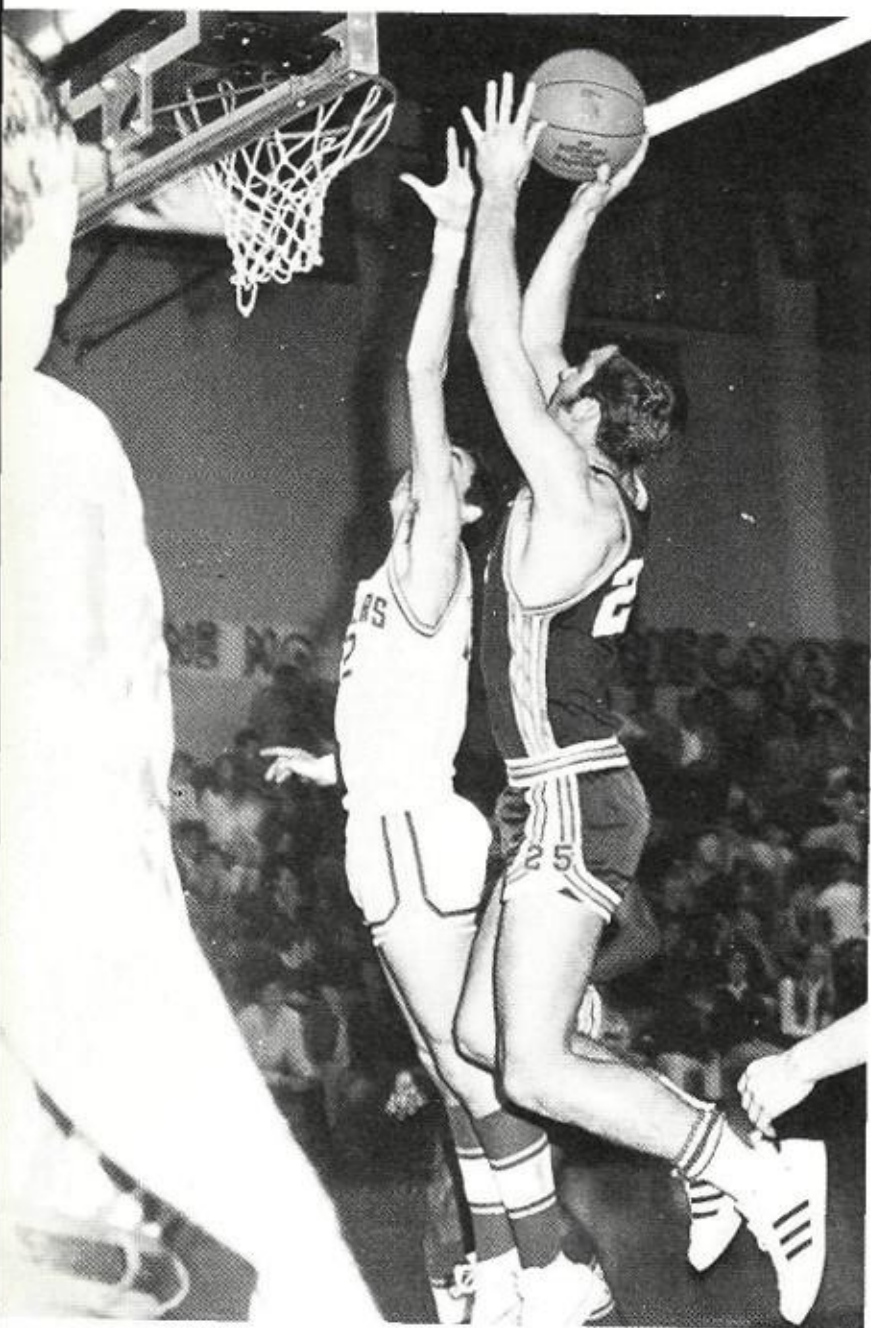

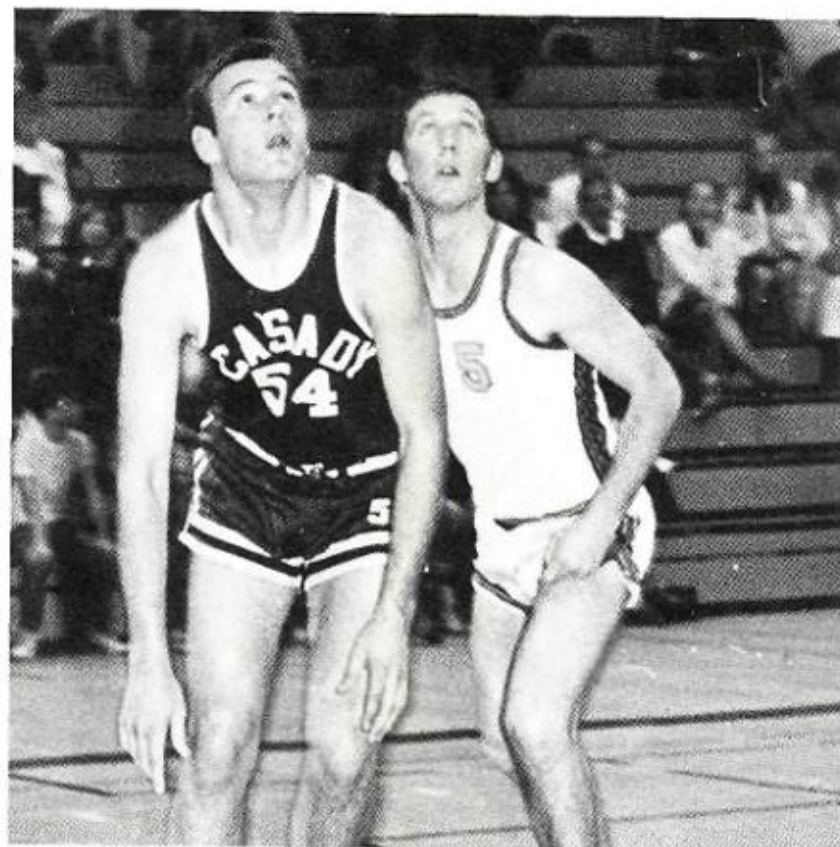

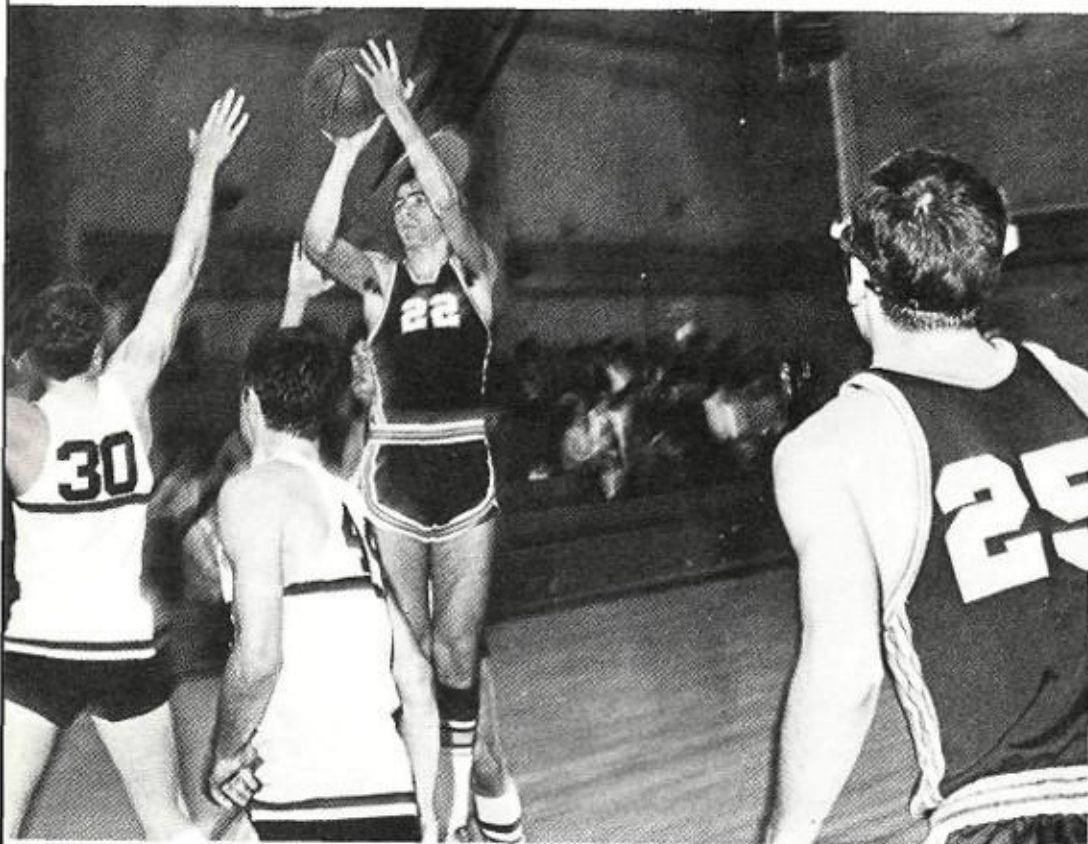

St. Stephen's was a quick team and the game was close throughout, but the Lions were victorious, 76-73. Pressure last minute free throws by Randy Williamson gave the winning margin.

The cagers were led by captains Howie Marsh, Bob Munger, and Randy Williamson. The Lions played as a team, and victory was theirs.

In compiling a 12-3 record, the best in SM swimming history, the Aqua Lions established a reputation as a Texas high school power. Much of this success may be attributed to Coach Charles Williams whose leadership and inspiration were truly outstanding and to the valuable leadership from the team's strong senior contingent.

New School records were established in diving by junior Chris Calder and by Allen Bashour, Bill Beams, Sam Papert, and Chip Fagadau in the 400 freestyle relay. Pool records were set by Peck, Holland, Bashour, and Beams in the 400 free relay, the medley relay of Barr, Beams, Fagadau, and Papert, and Calder in diving.

Highlights of the season included romps over Jesuit, Paschal, Bishop Lynch, Lake Highlands, and revenge victories over Richardson and Trinity. In addition, narrow losses to the SMU freshmen, state power Highland Park, and a victory over city champion W.T. White sweetened the tremendous season. Other incidents of some note were Joe Haas' "puke patrol" at the Richardson meet and the creation of the famous magic mojo bag to which the superstitious tankers attributed much of their success.

Leading point producers for the Lions were senior co-captains Chip Fagadau and Alan Barr, Bob Holland; junior Bill "Beanhead" Beams; and sophomore Allen Bashour. Other valuable members included senior Rob Tranchin, juniors Chris Calder, Dave "Chickenman" Lichten, Doug Peck, and Ross Ashby, and freshmen Sam "All-Star" Papert and Geoff Wilson.

Despite the loss of many seniors, next year's squad, with the addition of an outstanding coach to replace the Marine Corps-bound coach Williams, will have the necessary talent to remain a power in the North Texas area.

The St. Mark's varsity soccer team had its share of triumph and disappointment during the '69-'70 season. The Lions, hopeful of defending their North Texas High School Soccer Association title, lost it to Trinity Valley. After starting out strong against Cistercian, the soccermen lost key games to Jesuit and Trinity Valley. The second meeting with Trinity Valley was important if they were to keep pace with this league-leading team. The Lions crushed TV by the score of 5-1. Trinity Valley then fell to Jesuit, creating a three-way tie for first place: St. Mark's, Jesuit, and Trinity Valley. The renewed hopes of winning the championship were ruined when they were beaten by Jesuit, 3-2. The N.T.H.S.S.A. crown was later decided in a playoff between Jesuit and Trinity Valley, which Trinity Valley won.

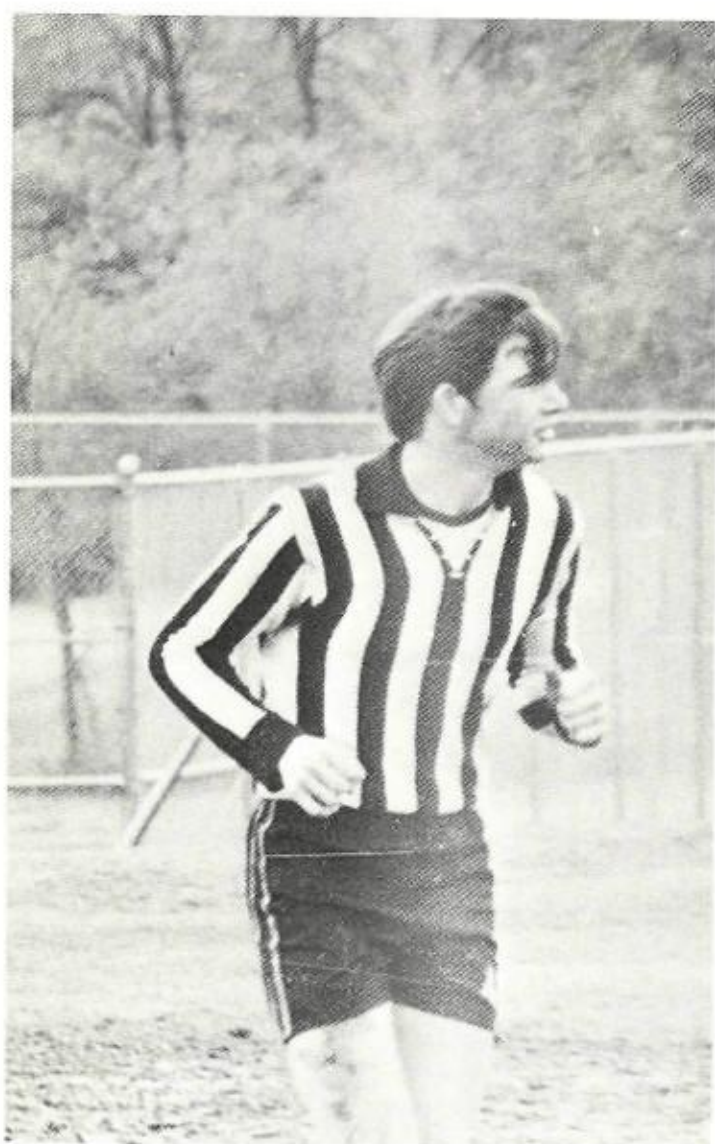

The soccermen did capture the elusive S.P.C. soccer crown at conference in Dallas, ending a two year period which saw teams win N.T.H.S.S.A. but lose conference. By defeating Greenhill and Holland Hall, the Lions reached the finals against Fort Worth Country Day. In the championship game, the soccermen gained a 2-0 lead in the first half. The Falcons knotted the score 2-2 mid-way through the second half. John Gunn scored the winning goal and the Lions gained the championship.

The Lions scored thirteen goals and allowed only three goals during S.P.C. action. Ten of the Lion's eighteen-man squad received all-conference recognition. Hawkins Golden, State Lawrence, Chris Jordan, and Robert Crawford received all conference first team honors. John Gunn, Sandy Campbell, Eddie Kyle, and Randy Nixon earned all conference second team honors. Steve Sanders and Tom Garnsey were all conference honorable mention selections. Varsity soccer ended the season with an overall 13-3-1 record.

St. Mark's wrestling team opened their season by edging Irving MacArthur 29-23. Instrumental to the victory were pins by Jerry and Bob Van der Horst and Ross Bee. The next week, the Lions downed Dallas Boys' Club 26-11 as Gary Donovitz, Randy Orlik, and Ross Bee registered falls. Contributing to this effort were victories by Monte Dhooge, Chuck Wright, and Jeff Johnson.

During Christmas vacation St. Mark's captured second place in the Grand Prairie Invitational and fourth in the Irving Invitational. January found the Lions dropping their first dual match 26-18 to Texas School for the Blind. Although Williams, Donovitz, Jerry Van der Horst, and Lester McGary won, Bob Van der Horst lost his first match to two-time state champion Willie Riggins. Without the services of the Van der Horsts, the wrestlers lost their first home match to last year's state runnerup, Richardson, 39-10.

The team journeyed to Oklahoma City in hopes of avenging last year's loss to Casady. Despite wins by Dhooge, Johnson, and both Vander Horsts, Casady prevailed 28-17. One week later, the Lions hosted Casady during S.P.C. In a valiant effort the two Van der Horsts and Dhooge won, and Bee decisioned Casady's team captain; yet the Lions fell short 25-21.

For the year, the team was led by Bob and Jerry Van der Horst and Ross Bee who had records of 8-2, 5-2, and 6-5 respectively. The crowds at the home Casady match proved that wrestling is here to stay.

The netters, coached by Mr. Fleming, faced tennis powers such as Highland Park, Richardson, W.T. White, and Jesuit. The S.P.C. tournament was held April 23-25 in Houston.

Some prospective clients have preconceived notions about ad agencies.

They think that imagination and creativity are derived from long hair and flamboyant clothes ... and that the only way they'll ever be able to work with an agency is to join the hair club or remain stoically square.

At Glass-Hughes, we believe in being hip without being hippies.

Every member of our staff contributes his particular specialty ... account management, copywriting, art and production, media buying, accounting.

..Sure, we can write clever headlines. But we know how to handle the nuts and bolts end, too.

It's that perfect combination of "way out" and "way in" that makes Glass-Hughes a specialist in advertising and public relations services ... and guarantees superior work for all our clients, regardless of the business they're in.

Different Strokes for Different Folks!

1971

Will you remember it all? TV in the Lounge — bull sessions in the Library — eyes at half-mast in Assembly — the Girl? Of course you will.
 Especially if you took pictures.

We can show you how to get the best pictures your camera will take — or help you pick a camera that doesn't cost the moon.

Putting any marketing plan into effect usually calls for face-to-face contact. The economy of MJJ's "Time Machine" can be measured in realistic terms of getting the job done in the least amount of time at a cost consistent to the potential profit. MJJ's ability to put you at several destinations in a matter of hours means accomplishing in days what ordinarily would require weeks. Your time is spent with prospects — not in hotels, airports and on the road.

Each man can do the work of a team.

One MJJ jet or a fleet is available to you on a few hours notice.

MJJ is geared to the computer age requirements of speed, efficiency and flexibility. Got a hot new marketing plan? Let MJJ help you put it to work for the growth and profit of your company.
